Tom Waring Presented 'Golden Deeds' Award

A CROWD of 250 persons alternately laughed and listened attentively last night as Exchange Club presented its annual Golden Deeds award to Tom Waring—an "adopted son" who made himself an indispensable part of the community in which he lives.

There were other famous people in the dining room at Mountain Lake House, too—but the night belonged to Waring.

The names of Fred Allen, Portland Hoffa, Jane Froman and Fred Waring added the luster of modern-day show business to the occasion, but the program was a sentimental one, tracing, as it did, the everyday deeds of a man one speaker said was "dedicated to helping others."

Contributions to County Life

Down the line the speeches touched on each specific part of Waring's life in Monroe County. The talks were made by men and women who knew what they were saying—they had worked with him and been helped by him, each of them said.

The first testimonial came from Reg Nauman, former president of the Varsity E. Club, an East Stroudsburg High School alumni organization. Nauman outlined Waring's great contributions to getting the Varsity E started on its big projects last year and his continued efforts to help and support its goals.

Frank Radler talked on the guest's help to baseball and Richard Fredenberg spoke on Waring's assistance during the recent March of Dimes drive this year. Harry Obitz, golf pro at Shawnee Inn, one of the many Waring family enterprises, told of his associations with Waring and their value.

Eugene Martin, dean of men at State Teachers College, spoke on Tom Waring's help to the college in the field of sports. Fran Shinn, a resort manager, talked about the honored guest's acceptance by the community and the ready liking and respect residents had come to feel for him.

Brother Speaks

Then Fred Waring, brother of the man who was getting the award, took the stand to testify on the years of his association with Tom, in the setting up of the Pennsylvania's organization and in later years. Jerry Stulgaitis, Stroudsburg High School coach, talked on his association with Waring and the help the composer-entertainer has given that school.

Through all the speeches—and the ad-lib comments ran the tuneful thread of Waring music—songs that Tom Waring has written in the past. Among them: "Way Back Home", a song which was particularly popular with GI's in the second world war, sung by Robert Kranendonk; "So Beats My Heart" by Leonard Kranendonk; "I'll Wait For My Love" by a quartet composed of the Kranendonks, Robert Wolbert and Bob Bolliger; Frank Davis singing "Countin' My Blessings" and a revamped version of "Hi Li, Hi Lo" sung by Jim Arnst, Frank Summa, John Verwey and Bernie Fish. The new lyrics to the song were written by George Graff, another noted songwriter and a good friend of Waring's.

Members of the Waring family were introduced. There were Miss Ann Calderwood, Helen Waring Martin, Mrs. Ed Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waring, and then the special guests Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen and Miss Froman.

Samuel Hicks, district Exchange governor, presented Waring with an honorary membership in the National Exchange Club. Hugh Brannum, who plays "Uncle Lumpy" on the Waring shows, gave a humorous sketch and Blanche Mackey contributed a serious note to the procedings, as did several other speakers.

Other Winners

This was the seventh Exchange "Golden Deeds" award. Others have gone to Rev. Harold Eaton, who was on hand last night to give the invocation; to Luther Hoffman, Clifford Gillam, Dr. Nina Price, Major May Adam and to Frank Michaels.

Last night the award citation was presented by Gilbert Dunning, the toastmaster. It had been decided upon by the awards committee, headed by Horace G. Walters.

When it came time to accept the award, the guest of honor rose, an obvious and often audible lump in his throat. It was the first time he had been on "this side of the table," he said and he blamed the testimonial-givers for "exaggeration" when they told about his contributions to the community.

In a voice that wavered, he looked first at the Golden Deeds certificate, then at the people gathered around him. There were many things he could say, he said, but none of them would be better than a simple and heartfelt "Thanks."

Democrats Call For Facts On U. S., Russian Air Power

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP)—Senate Democrats put on new pressure today to get what Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson termed the "true story" of how American air power stacks up against Russia's.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo), who fired up the controversy last week, demanded in the Senate that the Eisenhower administration answer "the one great question . . . How does our strength compare with the strength of the Communists, those who have so often reiterated their determination to destroy us?"

Johnson, of Texas, said Secretary of Defense Wilson owed it to the people to straighten them out on the question and to see to it that "the generals and the secretaries get together so that the right hand knows what the left is doing."

Secretary of Air Force Talbott 10 days ago issued a release discussing the appearance of new types of Russian warplanes. That led Symington at the time to question whether Russia might not be gaining air superiority.

Since then there have been what Sen. Johnson called "a new rash civilian officials in the government of confusing statements." He said "there should be clarification as to what is the true story."

The magazine Aviation Week reported yesterday that Russian air advancements have shocked "even the top level and the most knowledgeable military aviation leaders in the Pentagon."

The magazine said some high seem to have been practicing "a deliberate deception" of the people.

Before the controversy worked up to its peak last weekend, President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday that "to say we have lost in a twinkling all of this great technical development and technical excellence as well as the numbers in our total aircraft is just not true."

McCarthy Says Ike's Brother Milton 'Unofficial President'

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said tonight he regards Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother, as "the unofficial president of the United States."

Describing Milton Eisenhower, who is president of Pennsylvania State University, as "more than an influence on the President," "He is one of the most left wingers you can find in the Republican party. Luckily, Ike doesn't follow him in all his advice. If he did the country would be in much worse shape."

Milton Eisenhower has undertaken two special missions to Latin America for his older brother; he also has served as chairman of the U.S. commission to the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. He is a former president of Kansas State College.

Among other things, the senator said he could not support Eisenhower for reelection in 1956 "unless the President does something about the prisoner of war situation."

However, he said that if Democrat Adlai Stevenson were the only other candidate "I would have to, I suppose, vote for Eisenhower as the lesser of two evils."

McCarthy said he foresaw nothing good for the United States in the projected Big Four meeting this summer with Russia, Britain and France.

"I think," he said, "this Big Four meeting was decided largely by Milton Eisenhower, Nelson Rockefeller, Harold Stassen—the Republican New Dealers. I don't believe Ike himself made the decision."

Stassen and Rockefeller both are high officials on the White House staff. Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary at the White House, said there would be no comment there on McCarthy's remarks.

Polio Authorities To Confer

Leader Asks Boost In Jobless Benefits

Employers Would Pay Higher Rate

HARRISBURG, May 23 (AP)—Gov. Leader tonight asked the Legislature to increase maximum weekly workmen's compensation benefits from $32.50 to $37.50. He said the increase could be handled by a 15 per cent increase in employers' insurance rates.

These payments to workers injured on the job, now limited to 700 weeks under any circumstances, would be lifelong for permanent disability under the Leader proposal.

Companion Bill

Companion legislation introduced in the House also would broaden considerably the scope of occupational diseases subject to benefits. They are now limited principally to anthracosilicosis (Miner's asthma) and asbestosis.

The governor said all occupational diseases peculiar to industry should be compensable.

"The new workmen's compensation act, when made into law, will mark another great step forward in legislation designed to improve the conditions of all working men and women in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania," said Leader in his message to the lawmakers.

"Far too long Pennsylvania has lagged behind other industrial states of this nation in accepting responsibility for victims of occupational diseases and accidents."

Would Ban Bias

Meanwhile, Gov. Leader, at a meeting of groups backing FEPC legislation, called on the Senate Education Committee to report out a bill banning discrimination in jobs because of race, color or creed.

Committee Chairman Paul L. Wagner (R—Schuylkill) of education committee, said his subcommittee is ready to make its report to the full committee. He did not indicate how the sub-group acted.

On the Senate floor, Republicans refused to budge from their position that farmers should receive a 100 percent refund of taxes paid on gasoline used in farm machinery.

Democrats insist the figure should remain at 50 per cent it has been for several years.

If passed by the Senate tomorrow, the measure would go back to the Democratic-controlled House for concurrence in the 100 per cent figure.

The Senate, with Republicans going along unanimously, voted approval of the governor's first government reorganization plan — it would remove the state planning board from the Commerce Department and make it a separate agency.

Similar approval by the House would make the plan law.

Stopgap Funds

In the House, the Appropriations Committee began to move legislation to provide 65 million dollars in stopgap funds to finance Commonwealth operations for a time after June 1 until a tax program is developed.

Meanwhile, Rep. Daniel A. Verona (D—Allegheny) dropped a verbal bombshell on the House floor when he asked the Democratic leadership if the administration's classified income tax is unconstitutional.

Verona's statement was the first on the floor by a Democrat questioning the tax plan. Rep. Albert S. Readinger, house Democratic floor leader, expressed a belief the income tax program is constitutional. He said he hoped Verona would change his mind and vote for it.

Labor Unrest Puts New Life Into Election

LONDON, May 23 (AP) — An atmosphere of industrial unrest pulled Britain's election campaign out of the doldrums tonight and injected a new factor in Thursday's voting for a new 630-member House of Commons.

Behind closed doors, both Conservative and Labor headquarters planned last minute campaign moves. Victory for either side means the right to govern Britain for the next five years.

Socialistic Laborites, sensing they were running behind, searched feverishly for a new issue.

It appears likely Britain's 35 million voters will go to the polls with five major ports paralyzed by a jurisdictional dispute of dock workers and with the still graver threat of a nationwide rail strike due to begin almost before all the ballots are counted.

House Puts Off Scheduled Vote On Shortway Bill

HARRISBURG, May 23 (AP)—The House tonight skipped over two bills to authorize construction of Stroudsburg-Sharon and West Virginia extensions to the Pennsylvania Turnpike System. They remain in position for final passage and Rep. Albert S. Readinger, Democratic House leader, said they would be acted upon tomorrow.

Senate Strikes Billboard Curb From Measure

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP)—At the insistence of Sen. George (D-Ga), the Senate today took out of the Democrats' highway construction bill a section to provide for regulation of billboards.

George said he had no objection to states controlling the use of billboards. But, he said, the federal government had no business acquiring advertising rights up to 500 feet on each side of the right-of-way of a 40,000-mile interstate system of superhighways.

That is an invasion of states' rights, the veteran Georgian declared.

The Senate promptly struck the provision from the measure, with the consent of Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore). Neuberger said he had proposed the idea of controlling the billboards but said the disputed language in the bill had been phrased by the Bureau of Public Roads, not by him.

George said, "There are other things in this bill that look very strongly to federal control of things which ought to remain in the hands of the states."

This was the first outbreak of opposition to the measure from the Democratic side in two days of floor debate.

Earlier, the Senate agreed to start voting on the big bill Wednesday.

Convictions Of Three Reversed

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP)—The Supreme Court today threw out contempt-of-Congress convictions of three men who refused to answer questions put to them by congressional Red-hunters.

Chief Justice Warren, who spoke for the majority in all three cases, said governmental bodies "must be most scrupulous" in protecting the rights of a witness under the Fifth Amendment's guarantee against compulsory self-incrimination.

Warren also said that congressional committees, in laying the foundation for a contempt prosecution, must make it clear to a witness that he is in danger of prosecution for refusing to answer questions.

In none of the three cases, Warren said, did the House Un-American Activities Committee confront the witness with a clear-cut choice between answering a question and risking prosecution.

Convictions Reversed

These following convictions were reversed and sent back to U. S. District Court here with instructions to enter judgments of acquittal:

Julius Emspak, secretary-treasurer of the United Electrical Workers Union, which was expelled from the CIO several years ago on the ground it was Communist-dominated.

Emspak's conviction grew out of his appearance before the House committee during a 1949 investigation of Red infiltration of labor unions.

Thomas Quinn, a field organizer for the same union, who also was called as a witness during the same investigation.

Phillip Bart, general manager of the Daily Worker, Communist party newspaper, a witness before the same committee in 1950.

July Draft Call Set For State

HARRISBURG, May 23 (AP) — Pennsylvania's July draft call was fixed today by the state selective service system at 685 men, six less than the call for May and June.

State Director Henry M. Gross said the July quota will be filled entirely by men who are at least 21 years old as of July 1, regardless of local board status.

Ike Sees GOP Advancing Aims Of Majority

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP) — President Eisenhower said tonight the Republican party may be a minority party on a statistical basis, but that it is not expounding a minority doctrine in upholding principles of the founding fathers and the rights of "free Americans."

"We are not trying to go back to horsecars," Eisenhower said. "We are not trying to fly to Mars."

He said the Republicans are trying to advance the interests of a prosperous America by applying the experience of the past to problems of the future.

The chief executive spoke informally at a GOP "kickoff for 1956 dinner." A crowd estimated by party officials at 1,600 gave the President a ringing chant of, "We want Ike."

Cloaks Intentions

Eisenhower grinned broadly and voiced his appreciation of the welcome, but he gave no clues of his own intentions for next year. He did say that there are dozens of leaders within the party of a caliber and age of Vice President Nixon who can bring dedicated service to the GOP. Nixon is 42.

Other top administration speakers at the dinner said the Eisenhower administration has brought the nation prosperity in a "new atmosphere of peace."

Eisenhower said he firmly believes the GOP is "the finest organism we have" through which the electorate can preserve the kind of country it wants, in which every man, woman and child can be "proud to be an American."

This country, the President said, was founded on the theory that man had his origin through a divine power. He said the forefathers proclaimed that every individual was endowed by his Creator with certain rights. He said that means that individuals will not be regulated or controlled but be given every opportunity to live according to what is "decent and right."

In this modern world of mass production, under conditions unknown to the forefathers, he said, of these free Americans — "We'll never let them down."

"We have been told," Eisenhower said, "that the Republican party is a minority party, and I suppose by statistical records that is true. But it is not true that the doctrine I have been expounding is minority thinking in this country, not by any means."

Chlorine Gas Leak Causes Brief Scare

MONTAGUE, Mich., May 23 (AP) —A fire-scare evacuation of this Lake Michigan community was averted today after workmen throttled a chlorine gas leak at the 15-million-dollar Hooker electro-chemical plant here.

Billowing clouds of the deadly gas rolling from a broken pipe led to an erroneous report of a fire at the plant's liquifying vat half a mile from the city limits. Firemen said the pink-tinged gas clouds gave the appearance of fire.

O'Connor Urges Release Of Data On Cutter Tests

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP)—The government has called for a full dress conference of the nation's polio fighters here tomorrow, Surgeon Gen. Leonard Scheele announced tonight.

He did not disclose the purpose of the meeting, but developments over the last few days indicate that things are building up to a major decision on the Salk polio vaccine program, including perhaps new safety standards.

Scheele said the Vaccine Committee of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, officers of the American Medical Assn., and representatives of the Assn. of State and Territorial Health Officers have been invited to attend the conference.

They will meet with government scientists and experts from the six drug companies licensed to make the vaccine, who are already here.

O'Connor Demands Release

At the same time, government handling of the Salk vaccine came under fire from two directions.

Democrats called it "40 days of utter confusion," while Basil O'Connor, head of the polio foundation, charged it had become mixed up in politics.

O'Connor also telegraphed Scheele asking him to "release immediately to the public" the results of the government's study of Salk vaccine produced by the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif.

O'Connor noted that the Cutter vaccine was withdrawn from use on April 27 after a number of children inoculated with it came down with polio. Since then, according to the Public Health Service, there have been 59 confirmed cases of polio among persons who received the Cutter product.

Time for Conclusion

O'Connor said he assumed enough time has now elapsed to allow the government to come to a conclusion about the Cutter vaccine. His telegram hinted that the results of the study might hold keys to the question of whether testing procedures for all vaccines should be changed.

The Foundation head made his "politics" charge before a New York audience. Noting that his organization sponsored development of the vaccine, he said that even he has had trouble finding out what is going on since the federal government stepped into the picture last month.

"So long as the Salk vaccine and its research was in the hands of the National Foundation, you had some intelligence, total courage, intellectual integrity, and you had no politics whatsoever," O'Connor said.

"When you solve a problem in research," he went on, "it becomes subject to supply and demand, politics and economic factors of competition." O'Connor spoke at a journalism award luncheon of the Albert and Mary Lasker Foundation.

Kept Informed

He said that before April 12, when the results of last year's vaccine tests were made public, "You were kept completely informed." But since that time, O'Connor added, "We have had some difficulty in being informed ourselves."

He said he was now getting most of his information on the progress of the vaccination program through the press, and he suggested that his Foundation which has played so large a part in the fight against polio, should be better informed.

Here in Washington, Reps. Martha Griffiths (D-Mich) and Edith Green (D-Ore) said the "utter confusion" in handling the vaccine will be a major issue in next year's presidential election campaign.

Addressing the Women's National Democratic Club, Mrs. Griffiths said it was "shocking" that Secretary of Welfare Hobby contends public demand for the vaccine could not have been foreseen. Mrs. Green added that Mrs. Hobby's administration certainly had time to prepare "an orderly and safe program" while the vaccine was still being tested.

Unfortunate

Sen. George (D-Ga) said he thinks the way the whole program has been handled is "regrettable."

He told a reporter he didn't know if politics had come on the scene, as O'Connor charged, but that he regarded it as "unfortunate" that the federal government didn't subject the vaccine to more

Tax Evasion Plea Entered By Anastasia

CAMDEN, N. J., May 23 (AP)—Dapper Albert Anastasia, variously described as the leader and trigger man of the notorious New York "Murder Inc." mob, changed his mind in Federal Court today and pleaded guilty to income tax evasion.

The 50-year-old Anastasia, unsmiling as he stood before U. S. District Judge Thomas M. Madden, said he was guilty of failing to pay $11,743 in income taxes for the years 1947-48, as the government charged.

Beyond that he said nothing in his two-minute court appearance. To newsmen afterward he brushed all all questions with "no comment."

Madden, set to preside at Anastasia's retrial scheduled here May 31, continued bail at $10,000 and ordered the ex-convict—who has faced five murder indictments—to appear for sentencing June 3.

Anastasia faces a possible maximum sentence of five years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine on each count.

Second Blaze In Two Days Wrecks Theater

ALLENTOWN, May 23 (AP)—Fire wrecked the four-story Midway Theater building in downtown Allentown today.

Fire Chief Walter J. Flores estimated damage at $100,000.

No one was hurt. Three workmen in the basement of the building didn't know there was a blaze until firemen arrived.

It was the second major fire in Allentown within 48 hours. On Saturday a warehouse owned by the Hess Bros. Department store — about eight blocks from the theater—was gutted with damage estimated at a million dollars.

Whistle Blows; There's No Fire

STROUD TOWNSHIP'S fire whistle blew at 11:05 last night. There was no fire.

Firemen said they believed rain or lightning may have set the alarm off.

Official Vote Count Changes Results Of School Board Race

EAST BANGOR—An official count of votes cast for school director in this Slate Belt borough last Tuesday caused an upset in election returns.

Northampton County's computing board—made up of three jurists—issued results of its count yesterday. The tally showed George Rasely and G. C. Lang had won both the Republican and Democratic nominations.

Lang was a candidate on the regular Republican ballot. Rasely's votes—both Republican and Democratic—were all write-ins.

It was the write-in vote that counted in more ways than one. Here's the way things looked last Tuesday night:

Recount Sought

When local officials tallied up the unofficial election returns it looked as though the two Democratic candidates had won nominations on their party ticket.

There were 20 votes for Kenneth Bellis and 17 for Raymond Williams. Within a matter of hours, however, a petition was filed asking for a recount of the election returns.

Filing the petition were Russell Sandercock, Stanley Pensyl and Carolyn Sandercock. Sandercock and Pensyl are now members of the East Bangor board. They asked that a count of the votes be conducted immediately.

When the recount was completed yesterday, the petitioners had won their point.

New Totals

The computation results, issued by Judges William G. Barthold, Carlton P. Woodring and William A. Frack, who served as the county board of elections, showed the following totals:

For G. C. Lang, 24 write-ins. For Rasely, 26. The totals automatically give Lang and Rasely the nominations on both party tickets, since they had already won the GOP nominations.

The much-discussed Slate Belt jointure problem played a decisive part in the election and the number of write-ins, local observers said last night. Sandercock and Pensyl are in favor of a four-district jointure, as opposed to the seven-district jointure

ESSTC Grad Named Head Of College

Dr. Michael B. Gilligan

DR. CHARLES J. Naegle, former dean of instruction at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, now retired and residing in East Stroudsburg, will attend as a special guest at the induction of Dr. Michael Bennett Gilligan as president of Jersey State Teachers College, Jersey City, at 2:30 p.m. today in the college auditorium.

Dr. Gilligan is a graduate of the ESSTC two-year normal school course of 1925, a student in the college during the tenure of Dr. Naegle.

Dr. Frederick M. Raubinger, commissioner of education for the State of New Jersey, will preside at the ceremony, as well as speak briefly on the future of the Jersey City State Teachers College. Commissioner Raubinger will officially charge Dr. Gilligan with the office of president of the college.

Dr. Gilligan To Speak

Dr. Gilligan, in turn, will deliver the induction address. A reception until 4:30 p.m. in the new Forrest A. Irwin Library, to which all guests and students of the college are invited, will follow.

Dr. Herbert B. Gooden, dean of instruction at JCSTC, is general chairman of arrangements for the event.

Dr. Gilligan is a native of Dunmore, in which town he held his first teaching assignment.

Hospital Nearly Done

BUSHKILL — Work on a hospital at Camp Hugh Beaver, the Easton YMCA Summer camp near here, is moving along rapidly, Max F. Pellen, camp director said yesterday.

Work on the structure is being done by volunteers. All of them are members of the YMCA Father's Association. Reservations for the coming camp season are running 30 to 40 per cent ahead of last year, Pellen said.

Wallenpaupack Area Again Closed

THAT AREA OF Lake Wallenpaupack within 750 feet of the dam has been designated as nursery waters by the Board of Fish Commissioners and will again be closed to recreational activity, Pennsylvania Power & Light Company announced yesterday.

Boating, fishing, swimming and other recreation has not been allowed in the restricted waters since they were set aside for nursery purposes several years ago. Red flags mounted on buoys separate the nursery waters from the recreational area of the 13-mile lake.

Strike Idles Four Large British Ports

LONDON, May 23 (AP)—Striking dockers crippled Britain's four biggest ports today in a bitter interunion feud for bargaining rights on the nation's waterfronts. The Labor party's chances in Thursday's parliamentary election were not enhanced thereby.

Food ships began to pile up in the Thames Estuary and government officials warned the nation's vital export trade would be crippled if the strike continues.

More than 18,000 longshoremen quit work at London, Manchester, Hull and the twin Mersey ports of Liverpool and Birkenhead. A handful of others came out at smaller ports up and down the country. Another 30,000 remained on the job, but with working teams split up many gangs were unable to cope with their normal jobs.

Altogether, 174 ships were either idle or undermanned in the four ports.

Prime Minister Anthony Eden kept in touch with the strike developments at his country home at Chequers, as government officials worked feverishly to head off a second election week strike—a threatened walkout next weekend of 70,000 railway engineers and firemen seeking higher pay rates.

The events added fresh burdens to the Conservative government on the eve of the May 26 general election—and Laborite campaigners did their best to make the voters see that side of it.

The official party attitude, however, is that the strikes will not help Labor's cause. The party is closely identified with the trade union movement and another big walkout—especially a rail stoppage during next weekend's Whitsun holiday—is not likely to be too warmly received.

Newspapers of both political leanings have joined the government in denouncing the dock walkout as "disruptive."

College Gains Recognition For Its Part In Study To Improve Quality Of Teachers

EAST STROUDSBURG State Tetachers College has been cited by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education (AACTE) for its share in a unique nation-wide study to improve the quality of teachers for the nation's schools.

In a letter to Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, president of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, the association announced completion of an intensive four-year project aimed at better teaching and commended the college for the participation of its faculty members in the program.

More than 400 educational authorities have served on a nation-wide visitation task force to strengthen the service programs of the 285 colleges in AACTE, according to an announcement issued at AACTE national headquarters in Oneonta N. Y. by Dr. Edward C. Pomeroy executive secretary.

AACTE is a national voluntary association of colleges and universities with members in 44 states.

Improvements Noted

In his letter to President Noonan Dr. L. D. Haskew dean of the College of Education of the University of Texas and president of AACTE said: "As a result of the intervisitation project the college programs for educating teachers are already being improved in dramatic fashion.

"College organization, faculty preparation, student personnel services and teacher education curriculum were among the problems which came under the microscope during the study which was started in 1951.

"Each participating institution now has available for its guidance a written report based upon study by local faculty committees as well as recommendations prepared by visiting authorities from other institutions.

"The results according to Dr. Haskew are unparalleled in American higher education.

"These improvements," he added "will provice even better teachers for the boys and girls of the nation. Such dividends more than justify the tremendous investments made in the project."

Store Reduces Coffee Prices

A NATION-WIDE reduction of four cents a pound on its own brands of coffee was announced yesterday by A&P Food Stores.

These reductions, company officials said, bring premium coffee prices down to the lowest point in approximately five years. Just a year ago A&P coffee was selling for as high as $1.17 a pound.

The new prices per pound, effective in all A&P stores Monday: Eight O'Clock, 75 cents; Red Circle, 79; and Bokar, 81. The company's own brand of A&P vacuum-packed coffee will be reduced from 89 cents to 85 cents a pound.

Court Upholds Conviction Of Wable As Phantom Slayer

HARRISBURG, May 23 (AP)—The State Supreme Court ruled today the jury was "well justified" in convicting John Wesley Wable as "the Phantom Slayer of the Pennsylvania Turnpike." The court upheld the death sentence imposed on Wable.

The High Court, by unanimous opinion, refused to grant a new trial to the 25-year-old Wable, who was convicted in Westmoreland County in the pistol murder of a truck driver in the summer of 1953 as he slept in the cab of his truck on the famed toll road.

The prosecution also sought to link Wable with an almost identical slaying of another truck driver and the non-fatal shooting of a third. Wable denied at his trial he was the triggerman in the shootings.

The High Court also upheld the death sentence imposed on George Capps, 22, for the slaying of a baby sitter, 15-year-old Marta Gibbons, in Levittown, Bucks County, on Jan. 22, 1954.

"A careful reading of the testimony," said the High Court's opinion written by Chief Justice Horace Stern in the Wable appeal, "leads to the conclusion that the jury was well justified in finding that the defendant (Wable) was the person who committed these outrageous, deliberate and brutal crimes.

"The trial was fair, impartial and conducted by the court with painstaking and meticulous regard for all of the defendant's legal rights. The judgment and sentence is affirmed."

Wable's counsel, A. C. Scales, said at Greensburg that all further legal steps will be followed in the effort to upset the jury's verdict.

He said that he will petition the Supreme Court immediately for re-argument of the case.

He indicated that petitions would be filed this week.

Memorial Day Week-End Problems To Call For Patience On All Highways

The Memorial Day weekend again will pose the usual problems of safety, convenience and patience of many millions of motorists traveling over the Nation's highways.

This vast flow of vehicles, certain to be one of the greatest of the year, will clog virtually every road leading to the mountains, seashore points and other resorts. And this tremendous cavalcade of cars will considerably increase the danger to all, percentagewise.

Hundreds of motorists and their passengers died in highway accidents over the three-day Memorial Day holiday last year. If that terrible and highly unnecessary toll is to be cut down appreciably over this coming holiday all of us who drive anywhere during those days must be certain that our cars are in the best possible mechanical shape, observe every common-sense rule of the road, and practice courtesy and patience at all times.

Strict observance of speed limits and all posted regulations and the policy of looking out for the other fellow will be of utmost importance to everyone on the highways. Early starts and leisurely driving also are essential safety factors, particularly on such a travel-congested holiday, and roundabout routes or even "back roads" should prove more desirable—and certainly less dangerous—routes to many of the popular places.

The motorist more than ever will be personally responsible for his own safety and the safety of countless others along the road.

Be prepared, be courteous, be patient—and be safe.

Big Amen To Proposal For Modern "Do-It-Yourself" Income Tax Forms

We fervently wish that Representative Keating, New York Republican, had thought of his tax slogan earlier. But, early or late, mayhap it will have some effect next year.

Said the Congressman: "What this country needs is a 'do it yourself tax form'."

In this age of "do it yourself" craze it would be far simpler to build a home-made atomic bomb than to figure out the intricacies of the new, "simple" tax form 1040.

But if the Internal Revenue Department will take a tip from Mr. Keating it might come up with a program by next April 15 that will be simple enough for all of us to understand.

New Gadget To Educate Mankind Is Another Device Atacking Sanity

Man's sleeping hours offer the little surcease he gets in this hectic world. Now along comes some wild-haired inventor with a gadget called the Dormiphone.

Theory behind the Dormiphone is that man learns by having things repeated over and over into his ears. Voila, he learns as he sleeps.

The gadget has a small speaker that can be placed under the pillow. Its owner selects what he wants to learn—a poem, speech, a foreign language—and turns on the Dormiphone. All night long it drones the message into his ear. When he awakens, his head is supposed to be crammed with knowledge. Not to mention aches.

Its' not enough that man is bent on discomfort, insanity and boredom during his waking hours. Now he can have more of the same with his sleep. A modern wonder accompanied by modern noises.

George Sokolsky Says...

"Hair Center" For Men Proves Ingenuity Of Human's Never Ceases Making Wonders

Truly this is a wonderful age and if one lives long enough he will see everything. It is not only the atom and hydrogen bombs that stir the imagination, but I received a notice of a "Hair Center" serviced by men. I thought that all barbers were men and by their voices and their conversation and similar overt indications, I never doubted it. And since infancy, a barber shop has been a pleasant enough place to go to, but maybe in these modern times, we shall call them "Hair Centers."

Artchil Gouriellí, who is actually opening this "Hair Center—serviced by men," says that his is the first of its kind. Never having heard a barber shop called a "Hair Center" before, I realized that here indeed was something new like the "Nautilus" or the Salk vaccine or co-existence, which are all indications that human ingenuity never ceases and that still greater wonders are in the offing.

Anyhow, this "Hair Center" will provide skin and scalp treatment to make men good looking which is a response to the age of glamour. Even candidates for the Presidency must henceforth be glamorously photogenic to please their television audiences. No longer is a man to puff out his hairy chest to prove his manhood in the manner of Hemingway or to show the enormity of his muscles like a statuesque Sandow. Rather his face is to be browned like a Miami Zoroastrian or dull-ed to avoid glare in the camera. In this way he is not only to be good-looking but also comfortable.

It is also said that young-looking men have the widest opportunities for professional success, which shows how ignorant most of us are, because it used to be said that to succeed one had to know something, work hard, be thrifty and even honest. Surely neither Abraham Lincoln nor Albert Einstein were very good-looking or even young-looking but they both were successful, each after his fashion. In fact, many of the most successful men that ever lived cared little about whether each hair lay upon the stately dome as though it were shellacked. Of course, men might imitate the teenagers and wear a horse's tail or revert to the older custom of braiding their hair into a pig's tail.

They have a job in this progressive barber shop which they call a contour hair-cut. I do not quite know why that is different from any other hair-cut because when the barber clips the hair, he must follow some kind of a contour, for the simple reason that the hair is on the head which is more or less like the side of a hill, except for those who have flat heads and they are very few in these parts. The style called a "crew cut" does make fine-looking boys resemble German military officers who in World War I were supposed to have flat heads, particularly when we were conducting a universal propaganda against them. Now that our own sons have copied their hair-cut, we approve, which shows how public opinion can change with the shift of the wind on this or any other subject.

I also note that a complete color range is carried for old-looking and graying heads. This is the last word in human progress. We no longer have any gray beards because we do not have beards. Now we are not to have distinguished-looking men whose silvery hair gives the appearance, if not the substance, of wisdom and experience. Every man will color his hair perhaps to match his wife's. By using dyes out of the same batch, unity will be restored in the household and thus will be solved some of our most serious problems, such as the high divorce rate, broken homes and juvenile delinquency.

In fact, the press agent who sent me the account of this new wonder says that "the accuracy of color matching is fantastic," as it well might be. With industry and commerce cutting off men in their prime by retiring those who have the greatest experience in favor of those who have the least, it will now be possible for the aged to become juvenile by having their hair properly dyed—perhaps a platinum blond. Sclerosis and senility will thus be denied their victims.

One thing is missing in this great advance of the human race. Nothing is said about painting the finger nails according to one's politics—blue for Republicans, pink for the Democrats, and a deep maroon for those who do not know better.

Oysters were cultivated as early as 100 B. C.

Propaganda Jingles Used To Sell Use Of Bus Traveling

There is something going on that I intend to watch with the greatest interest.

A publicity foundry that has been flooding the country with propaganda on the sorry plight of the mass transit industry included in a recent release the words and music of a new song called, "Ease That Squeeze!" It was written by the drummer of a dance band at Northern Illinois State Teachers College in an inspired effort to relieve the traffic situation.

The music sounds quite a little like a number of other tunes I have heard, and there is a certain familiarity about the words, too. But the accompanying blurb says the song has been a great hit at Old N. I. S. T. C.

So I am not disposed to look down my nose at it. None of the other remedies that have been tried seem to have helped the bus business much. If there is any chance that singing commercials will do the trick, far be it from me to pooh-pooh.

It is possible that they might, at that. After all, singing commercials sell beer, cigarets, soaps, headache remedies and a lot of other commodities. At least I assume they do or the advertisers wouldn't keep on paying for them.

Why, then, should anybody be so sure they can't sell the public on the importance of riding buses? No reason, obviously.

Still, promising as they may be in theory, they have yet to be proved effective in practice. And I shall follow the proving process with mixed emotions.

If it can be demonstrated that propaganda set to music will persuade great masses of people to change their habits and use public transit to avoid traffic and parking headaches, that in itself will be gratifying. American cities need mass transportation service and there will be none if there aren't enough customers to make it profitable.

On the other hand, if propaganda jingles will sell bus transportation it seems inevitable that they will be adapted sooner or later for the solution of other big problems.

I'm not sure I can bear up under that.

There is something strangely disconcerting about the thought of disc jockeys plying us with ditties like "Highway Safety Mambo," "Oh, You Beautiful Tax Cut," "United Nations, I Love You," "Slow Down, Slow Down on that Winding Road," "The Bricker Amendment Blues" or "Let's Build a Toll Road Now Along the Wabash."

Pretty clearly it is going to take something more than the tired dialectics that have been relied on up to date to rally mass support behind some of the touted remedies for the world's current ills. It is hard for me to believe hack tunesmiths can supply the missing magic ingredient. I doubt that we can whistle out the vote or hum our way to lasting peace.

But let's keep an eye on those bus-line profits.

Try and Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

A VASSAR sophomore, off for Palm Beach, wailed to her mother, down at Penn Station to see her off, "I knew I'd forget something! I left my bathing suit on the bed!" "Don't worry,' counseled her mother. "I'll put it in an envelope and send it by air mail. It will be in Florida before you are."

The Once Over —by H. I. Phillips

We Cover The Waterfront

This is the season when man's urge to respond to the call of Masefield and the manufacturers of seagoing paints is at a peak. The number of men, women and children wielding scrapers, sandpaper and paint-brushes incompetently is beyond easy estimate.

Stand near any shipyard on lake, river, bay or ocean and you will see some of the most heavily painted humans on earth. (One coat for the boat and two for the painter.) The first robin means nothing to the boat owner. His heart beats faster to the first can of turpentine. No swallows or daffodils move him. He is stirred only by the flight of the caulking-iron, the bloom of the bottom paint and the lure of the seam-compound. He can stand unmoved beside the radiant yellow of the forsythia bush. But the yellow of deck paint sends him, especially if he is in it up to his elbows. His spring song is to music made by a blending of the cries "Hand me the varnish!" "You've got the paint too thin, Joe" and "Hey, will turpentine take copper paint off my eyelids?"

When the yachting season approaches, nothing else matters. The guy who can't be persuaded to touch up the front door of his own home will rush to a shipyard and put in a 10-hour day at a job calling for the ability, ruggedness and determination of a combination master mechanic, house painter and naval engineer. The smart wife will grab a brush and go along with him to the waterfront. Otherwise she will be what is known as a shipyard widow. She will see her man only in fleeting flashes and he will be hard to identify under the coat of blood, sweat, tears and varnish removers. If she greets him at the break of day with "Good morning," she gets only the reply "I overslept. See you an hour after sunset tonight." Her evening greeting "I'm afraid your dinner is cold," brings a befuddled, "I should of burned off the topsides . . . One of the planks is gone . . . I think I should of used blue instead of maroon on the rail . . . Wait 'til I find the crumbum who stole my ladder," etc., etc.

Four Hollywood film companies have bid for "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof." . . . It will probably be done with two roofs with a special wide-screen cat . . . T. L. Robert S. Allen Reports

Opposition Developing To Ike's A-Powered Vessels

Washington, May 24 — President Eisenhower has run into a surprise on his proposal for an atomic-powered merchant ship that would tour the world as a demonstration of peace and scientific progress.

Unexpectedly strong opposition is manifesting itself in the congressional committees considering this project.

So serious is this backstage resistance that anything may happen.

That's what Republican leaders are telling the White House. They are warning that congressional approval cannot be taken for granted, as was anticipated; that, instead, the President faces a highly uncertain fight which will require his vigorous personal intervention to win.

Reason for this explosive situation is that the opponents are not against an atomic-powered merchant ship as such.

They are not against the development of such a vessel. They're all in favor of it. Representative Herbert Bonner (D., N. C.), chairman of the Merchant Marine Committee, is sponsoring legislation to give the Maritime Administration authority to do that.

The foes of the President's plan are challenging it on the ground it would be a costly duplication and hindrance to a development program that is already underway.

Backing them up on this contention is testimony from a top official of the Atomic Energy Commission.

He is Kenneth Davis, head of the Reactor Development Division.

A world authority in this field, Davis did his talking at a Maritime Committee meeting where he was questioned at length about the President's proposal and similar development activities.

Davis made a number of disclosures which surprised the Committee, and which the opposition is busily using to shelve the President's project.

Unexpected Ammunition—Foremost among Davis' disclosures were the following:

The President's proposal did not originate in the Atomic Commission. It came from another (unnamed) source.

At present the cost per horsepower of a conventional ship as compared to an atomic vessel is ten to one.

The President's plan would have some adverse effect on the "proper development of an atomic-powered merchant ship."

These points were brought out by Representatives Bonner, George Miller (D., Calif.) and T. James Tumulty (D., N. J.), as follows:

Tumulty: "Someone outside the Atomic Commission gave birth to this ship idea, isn't that correct?"

Davis: "Yes, sir."

Tumulty: "Actually, the President's ship is a propaganda scheme, isnt that right?"

Davis: "Yes, if you want to use that word."

Miller: "While the President's ship is being constructed at a cost of anywhere from thirty to forty million dollars, what about the personnel that will be available to carry on your scientific program to develop a proper atomic-powered merchant ship, instead of merely a propaganda vessel?"

Davis: "I think we will have enough personnel. We do have a problem in all our programs of a shortage of technical personnel. That's one of our major bottlenecks."

Miller: "But the President's plan would make your problem more difficult, wouldn't it?"

Davis: "Yes, it would make it somewhat more difficult."

Tumulty: "Then this propaganda ship to a certain extent will have adverse effect on the development of a truly practical and feasible atomic-powered merchant ship."

Davis: "Yes, it will subtract something from the total number of people required for our development programs."

Representative John Allen, Jr. (R., Calif.) inquired about the cost of atomic-type propulsion.

"That's one of the biggest guessing games there is," replied Davis, "trying to guess what nuclear power may cost in the future. Today the cost is something like ten times that of a conventional power plant. But we know we can do a great deal better than that. However, when we will achieve that goal is virtually impossible to predict at this time."

"As I understand it," said Representative Miller, "the real essence of the atomic-powered merchant ship of the future is the development of a new type reactor; one that will be quite different from those now in existence."

Davis concurred in that.

"What's the advantage of the President's ship?" asked Bonner. "We are interested in an atomic merchant ship for the future and not in a circus vessel."

"We have a presidential directive to proceed with this ship and that's what we are doing," explained Davis. "We feel it will have some advantage and may solve some problems."

The noted scientist also cautioned the Committee not to expect early development of economically competitive atomic power.

"I must point out," he said, "that we have never built a power reactor of even modest size, and that it will be two years or more before the first large-scale reactor will be in operation. This reactor will not be economically competitive at all. It will give us much valuable technical and economic information on the design, construction and operation of a large-size power reactor.

"It will be at least five years before we have in hand the minimum amount of development and operation data which will tell us whether or not the construction and operation of one or more types of central station power reactors can be considered economically desirable. If additional demonstration plants are required, the time will be even longer. These comments refer to central station power plants of at least 100,000 kilowatts and probably 150,000 to 250,000 kilowatts.

"It must be pointed out that the naval reactor program does very little to clear the way for the economic nuclear propulsion of merchant ships, even though the power plant of the NAUTILUS is of comparable size to those required in merchant ships. Such a reactor can, of course, be installed in a merchant ship, but it is far too costly to build and operate for merchant ships in general."

30 Per Cent Of All Water Fluoridated

—by H. G. Heller

The latest compilations of the Bureau of Sanitary Engineering of the State Department of Health show that 30 per cent of the total population of Pennsylvania is now using fluoridated water.

This is pointed to by Health Department officials as wide acceptance by the public in this state over a comparatively few years of the fluoridation process as a means of protecting the teeth of children against caries.

The first fluoridation permit in this state was issued by the Health Department to Ford City, February 14, 1951.

A further breakdown of the compilations show that there are 25 fluoridation installations in 16 different water departments throughout Pennsylvania and that those departments serve 54 municipalities.

It is further shown that fluorine treated water is now being served to 36 per cent of that portion of the state's population which receives its water from public supplies.

All public water supplies are under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Sanitary Engineering of the State Health Department and fluoridation may not be used without a permit from the department.

Memorial Day Parade To Honor Deceased War Veterans

Traditional Service Set For Cemetery

AT 8 A.M. Monday, May 30, Monroe County will pay its traditional tribute to the thousands of American war dead.

A parade, in which veterans will play the leading parts, will be staged in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg. Other communities plan their own observations of Decoration Day.

The parade will have its formal prelude at the American Legion Post Home on Washington St., East Stroudsburg. There—at the site of the Legion Monument—a memorial wreath will be placed and a prayer will be offered by Rev. Francis Barrett.

A firing squad will fire three volleys. Taps will be sounded at the monument. This ceremony will take place at 8 a.m.

To Place Wreath

At 8:30 a.m., in Stroudsburg's Court House Square, the veterans will place a second wreath at the base of the Doughboy Monument. A second prayer will be offered by Father Barrett. The firing squad will again be heard firing three volleys of shots and the bugler will again sound taps.

Taking part in each of these brief ceremonies will be representatives of all the major veterans' organizations in the county, the parade commander, sergeant-at arms and officers of the day.

While the Court House Square ceremony is taking place, the parade units will begin assembling on Ann St. in the rear of the YMCA building. Division markers will be erected and in plain sight so that each unit will know precisely where it is to form its members.

The units will move out promptly at 9 a.m. with marshals heading their separate divisions. The parade will march down on William St. to Main St. The line of march will be eastward on Main to the intersection of Seventh and Main Sts.

Pause To Pay Respects

At this point all units of the parade will halt as the colors and grand marshals face the Doughboy Monument and pay their respects as taps is sounded. The remainder of the column will stand at attention.

With the short ceremony completed, the parade will again move east on Main to the State Bridge where it will again be halted while flower petals are dropped from the bridge to the water. This traditional ceremony honors the naval dead in wars in which the U.S. has been engaged.

From the bridge the column moves to Washington St. then to S. Courtland St., Crystal St., Redgeway St. and Prospect St. At Prospect Cemetery the line of march will halt at the grave of Clarence Strunk, a veteran of World War One.

At the graveside the Memorial Day program will be conducted. Leo Achterman will be the master of ceremonies. Rev. Frank Wingerter will give the invocation and benediction.

Christine To Speak

The East Stroudsburg High School band, under the direction of Clement Wiedinmyer, will play "America" and "The National Anthem". The memorial address will be given by Elmer D. Christine, judge advocate general of the National organization of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

A firing squad from Company G, 109th Infantry, will take part in the program. The Legion Drum and Bugle Corps will play taps.

In the line of march for the parade will be the following units:

First Division — American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, Company G, the 28th Division and the auxiliary and the Marine Corps Reserve;

Second Division — Smithfield School Band, Legion Post members, the Legion Auxiliary, VFW Post members, VFW auxiliary members, Civil Air Patrol unit;

Third Division — Stroudsburg High School Band, the Salvation Army, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts;

Fourth Division — East Stroudsburg High School band and members of the various fire companies in the area.

Among the officials in charge of elements of the parade will be Earl R. Palmer, chairman; Alfred Reisenwitz, co-chairman; Edward Tweedie, VFW commander; Harold Burch, Legion commander, and James Shafer, Marine Corps League.

Dr. Floyd W. Shafer

Dr. Shafer Going To Rome, Italy

DR. FLOYD W. Shafer, Stroudsburg, flies out of International Airport Thursday for University of Rome where he will be one of two American physicians invited to participate in a clinical discussion before the National Gastro-Enterology Society of Italy.

Specifically, Dr. Shafer will discuss results of administering a new drug—"Exul"—for gastric ulcers which was created some months ago by medical scientists in Copenhagen, Denmark.

The local physician has been administering the drug here with results which produced an invitation to fly to Rome for the National Gastro-Enterology Society's special meeting at University of Rome.

Report on Results

Other physicians, representing a number of European nations, will similarly present papers on the use of the drug and results it has produced.

The conference is being held at Montecatinie, Italy, starting May 28. Prof Beagia Resce, of University of Rome, is arranging details of the scientific conference.

Dr. Shafer will fly the KLM, Dutch Airlines—a 13-hour trip to Rome. He is expected to be away about eight days.

Lutheran Ministerium Votes To Return To Buck Hill Falls For Conventions In 1956-57

BUSK HILL FALLS—The Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania voted yesterday afternoon to hold its 1956 and 1957 conventions at the Inn at Buck Hill Falls.

A four-day 1955 meeting opened at the Inn yesterday. A communion service was offered for delegates as the first item on the agenda.

Dr. C. N. Cooper, president of the synod, delivered the sermon. He called for "a strenuous effort to raise the level of giving in the 546 congregations of the ministerium."

Dr. Cooper noted that, on the basis of present receipts, only about 80 per cent of the 1955 budget of $1,646,918 will be raised. To afford direct help to congregations, he said, a financial planning and stewardship program should be drawn up and put into action.

Stewardship Projects

"Intensive sector projects or stewardships will be held" in the Philadelphia, Norristown and Reading conferences in 1955, he said. Such projects are slated for the Allentown, Wilkes-Barre and Pottsville conferences in 1956, he pointed out.

Announcement was made that preliminary meetings to train readers to conduct programs in congregations have already been held.

Yesterday's opening session ended last night with a laymens meeting at which a panel of Muhlenberg College professors presented the story of the college. Ministers met in a separate conference last night to discuss work done in their areas.

VFW To Elect New Officers

THOMAS P. Lambert Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars will elect officers at the meeting scheduled for 8:15 tonight at the post home.

To be elected are not only the commander and chair officers, but council and district delegates.

Major Decision Due On Vaccine Program

thorough testing before its distribution began last month.

O'Connor didn't elaborate on his politics charge except to say "national and state" politics were involved.

In his remarks in New York, O'Connor emphasized that nothing said by "baffled tongues" affects the safety of the vaccine.

"If the facts are properly and intelligently and calmly considered, the conclusion will be the same as it was on April 12," he said.

Praises O'Connor

O'Connor was praised here by Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) for his part in developing the vaccine. He said O'Connor's mention of politics was undoubtedly a reference to "the hue and cry on the part of Democratic politicians."

In Philadelphia, the president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Theodore S. Chapman, contributed some comment of her own. She said it now appears there should have been more research before announcement was made about the vaccine. "But I'm just a layman," she added.

The government's scientific advisers met behind closed doors at the National Institutes of Health here today to thrash out technical problems involved in testing the Salk vaccine for safety before additional supplies are released for the school immunization program.

Dr. William Sebrell Jr., director of the institutes and chairman of the meeting, said they would probably wait until after tomorrow's meeting to report their recommendations to Scheele.

Members Listed

Scheele's announcement on tomorrow's meeting did not give the names of the AMA representatives and health officers invited.

But it listed these members of the Foundation's Vaccine Committee:

Dr. Thomas M. Rivers, chairman, Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research; Dr. Thomas P. Murdock, American Medical Assn.; Dr. David E. Price, Public Health Service; Dr. Ernest L. Stebbins, Johns Hopkins University; Dr. Norman H. Topping, University of Pennsylvania; Dr. Thomas B. Turner, Johns Hopkins University; and Dr. Richard Shope, Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

Scheele has promised to make known his decisions on the program "as soon as possible." A halt in the vaccination program was recommended 15 days ago after some children came down with polio following their inoculations.

The Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee met today on another aspect of the antipolio program—control of the vaccine's distribution after fresh supplies have been tested and approved for use. There was a two-hour discussion behind closed doors.

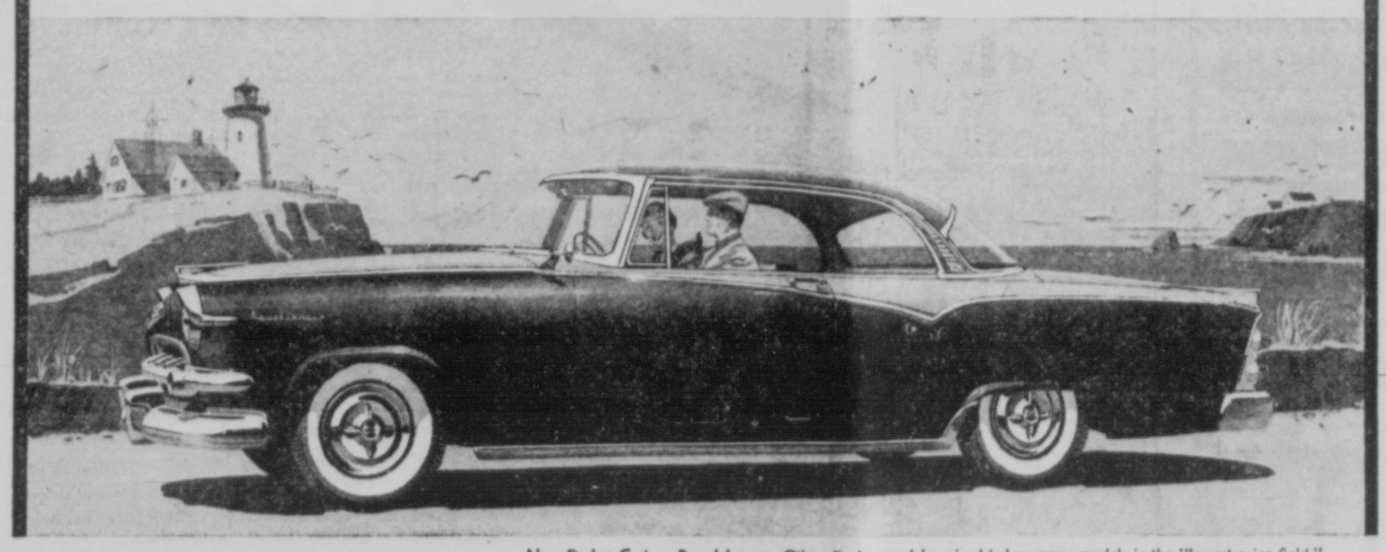

Afterwards Chairman Hill (D-Ala) told reporters the committee's staff would go to work immediately with officials of the Health, Education and Welfare Department on draft legislation to give President Eisenhower standby control powers and also to appropriate 28 million dollars to finance inoculations for children whose parents can't afford to pay for them.

Memory is a priceless possession. Preserve it permanently—visibly—beautifully in stone.

Built to Flash Ahead
(not just get by!)

New Dodge Custom Royal Lancer. Other Dodge models priced below many models in the "lowest price field."

Some things you can see right away that tell you this is the year of the big Dodge move. (Sales have doubled over last year!)

You can stack the new Dodge up against other cars in its field, and see how much larger and more luxurious it is: Up to 9 inches longer than competition.

You can see the distinction of new Dodge styling, with eager lines that are stealing the "OH's" from the costliest cars. The swept-back sweep-around windshield. The "sparkle" of twin-jet taillights and three-tone color combinations. The beauty of Jacquard tapestry interiors.

But more important than this is the deep-down dependability engineered into every unseen part and feature of this great Dodge!

That is something you discover through the years and over the miles. It is your sure reward for choosing the new Dodge.

Attorneys Plead Case For Sheppard

CLEVELAND, May 23 (AP)—Attorneys for Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard today told the Court of Appeals the 31-year-old osteopath was convicted "by popular clamor" of the murder of his wife.

The defense wants the appeals court to set aside the verdict of a jury which found Sheppard guilty of second degree murder, and to order a new trial. The defense claims the trial judge, Edward S. Blythin, made numerous legal errors during the 10-week trial, and that new evidence has been discovered which indicates the real murderer was a sex fiend who broke into the Sheppard home. Marilyn Sheppard was bludgeoned to death in her bed last July 4.

This case is of importance "not only to this community, but to the public beyond," said chief defense counsel William J. Corrigan. "It involves the right of a fair trial, the right to be secure from conviction by popular clamor, the right to be acquitted when the proof falls short of the legal requirements."

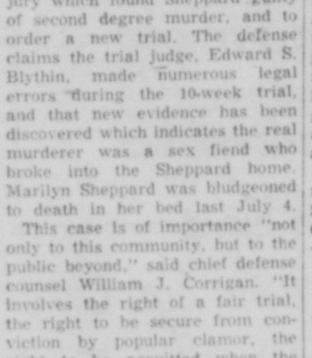

The three-judge appeals court put all its other cases aside to consider the Sheppard appeal. Its decision is not expected for at least a month.

The appeal is being heard in two phases. The first, which opened today, concerns the verdict itself—whether it was just or whether a new trial should be granted.

The second phase, to start in about two weeks, will concern the defense's contention that Judge Blythin erred in denying a new trial on grounds of newly discovered evidence.

Cinderella Kresge Delivers Address On Peace Theme At Polk School Commencement

KRESGEVILLE—If Man wants peace the place to start working on it is in the home, within the family and in your own community, valedictorian Cinderella Kresge told a Polk School commencement audience last night.

Miss Kresge's address was the highlight of the 46th annual commencement at the school here. Her audience included 16 other graduates, their families, friends and teachers.

Two other student speakers were on the program. They were salutatorian Pauline Serfass and class president Doris Borger.

"Wonderful civilizations have been built upon ideas of lasting peace," Miss Kresge said "but they have always come down in ruins due to mass conflicts between groups."

Improve Relationships

Youth, she said, must seek new "working principles" by which to help Man control himself in orderly government and in peace. "The new system of conduct we seek must first be one that will improve person - to - person relationships. Surely the man on the street throughout the world would like to see some principle formulated that world problems need not be decided on a battlefield but in a conference room," she said.

"Too many leaders faslify everything that can be falsified and we must strive to answer every untruth with a true statement. The answer to many problems of mankind can be found in three simple words: Truth, Education and Defense," she went on.

"Whether we in our generation will succeed in mobilizing all the resources for making a better world will depend entirely upon individuals who will dedicate their lives to a principle of self-control and the best place to lay a good foundation is in the home, with your next-door neighbors and your community," she concluded. "If you can exercise self-control at home, national and international problems are sure to be solved without the shedding of blood and tears and the loss of lives."

Emphasis on Experimentation

In her salutatory, Miss Serfass emphasized the importance of experimentation in the field of science and posed the question of applying the same theories of experimentation to the fields of human relations and understanding.

Immense changes in scientific fields formed the basis for Miss Borger's class presidents address, also. She pointed to the vast potentials lying ahead for young people, of the many modern improvements which have made life and living easier and of the present generations "privilege . . . in being allowed to witness these changes and benefit from them."

The guest speaker at the graduation exercises was Rev. Raymond S. Haupert, president of Moravian College. Rev. Adan A. Bohner gave the invocation and benediction.

John C. Litts, Monroe County superintendent of schools, presented diplomas to the graduating class. Members of the class, listed alphabetically, are: William K. Andrews, Doris D. Borger, Ruth E. Dreisbach, Charlotte A. George, Marie M. Getz, Shirley A. Griffith, Alice Heckman, Estella R. Krechel, Cinderella E. Kresge, Marion E. Oney, Pauline F. Serfass, Lila Mae Shultz, Sherwood S. Smith, Bertha E. Snyder, Shirley E. Sweet, Beverly N. Van Why, and Evelyn R. Young.

Recipients of Awards

Harry T. Young, supervising principal of the Polk school, presented awards to outstanding students. The awards given included the following:

The Stanley Rader and Floyd Shafer award to Cinderella Kresge; the salutatorian award to Pauline Serfass; the D.A.R. American history award to Miss Serfass; the Reader's Digest award to Miss Kresge; the P. O. of A. Camp 245 award to the "best-all-round girl" to Shirley Griffith; the Leon Keller award to the "best-all-round boy" to Billy Andrews; the American Legion Auxiliary award to Clara Serfass and the Legion award to Bobby Andrews.

The Polk School band, under direction of Edmund J. Kozlowski, played the processional and recessional and one selection during the program. A large audience attended the ceremony.

Anthology To Publish Girl's Poem

A POEM by Jennet Cramer, East Stroudsburg Junior High School student, has been chosen for publication in the annual high school poetry anthology published by the National H. S. Poetry Association.

Miss Cramer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cramer, Berwick Heights Road, East Stroudsburg. Her English teacher is Mrs. Melva Reid.

The title of the poem is "Fritzi." It is a description, in poetry, of Miss Cramer's pet dog, whose name gives the poem its title.

Presentation Of Awards Takes Place

AN AWARD DAY program was held yesterday morning at Stroudsburg High School. The following awards were presented:

The American Legion good citizenship award to Robert Strechay, grade eight, presented by Leland Waltz. The Legion Auxiliary award to Joan Hester, grade eight, presented by Mrs. Elmer Heffer.

Two DAR awards for "citizenship pilgrimage" to Abbie Jane Frisbie and Barry Tretheway, grade nine, presented by Mrs. Howard Flagler.

A Savings Bond and trophy for winning the recent Jaycees Road-E-O was presented to Donald Knickman by Peter Wyckoff, president of the Pocono Jaycees which sponsored the competition. The trophy remains in the high school trophy case for one year, then is given to Knickman.

Why is Soviet Russia building Bigger Bombers?

Read these grim facts that show why America must immediately have more civilian volunteers in Air Defense Filter Centers and plane spotter observation posts

Despite the growing volume of "peaceful intention" speeches flowing from the Kremlin, our government knows that the Soviet Union air force is constantly and rapidly increasing its capability to launch a surprise, devastating air attack upon our country. Not only are the Soviets adding more long-range bombers to their attack groups, but they are concentrating on bigger and faster aircraft. The masters of the Kremlin have little need for aircraft of this type except for an attack against the United States.

Our Army, Navy and Air Force are working round the clock to guard our nation from this threat, and they grow stronger every day. Our radar network is in constant operation to warn us of approaching danger, but we must remember that radar installations are not infallible. Under certain conditions, civilian plane spotters might well be the principle means of providing information of approaching enemy bombers.

As a volunteer plane spotter in the Ground Observer Corps, your eyes and ears are needed to detect and report these hostile aircraft. Attacking planes must be detected and tracked to be destroyed. Join the more than 300,000 of your fellow Americans who are now serving in the Ground Observer Corps. Won't you serve your country for a few hours a week?

All Types To Fit Budgets Of Families

LET'S HAVE a heart-to-heart talk about your health and the effect heat has upon it:

Your doctor knows that in order to say healthy, your body temperature must be approximately 98.6 degrees. He'll tell you that when the thermometer hovers between 65 and 75 degrees your heart has no trouble maintaining a healthy body temperature.

When the thermometer rises above 75 degrees—to 90, let's say—your heart is called upon to do heavy overtime work to keep your body temperature normal.

This put tremendous strain on your hard-working heart . . . it must pump up to 10 times harder in hot weather.

On hot and humid days your heart works most normally in an air conditioned room where heat and humidity are locked out.

And room air conditioners keep out dust, dirt and pollen, too

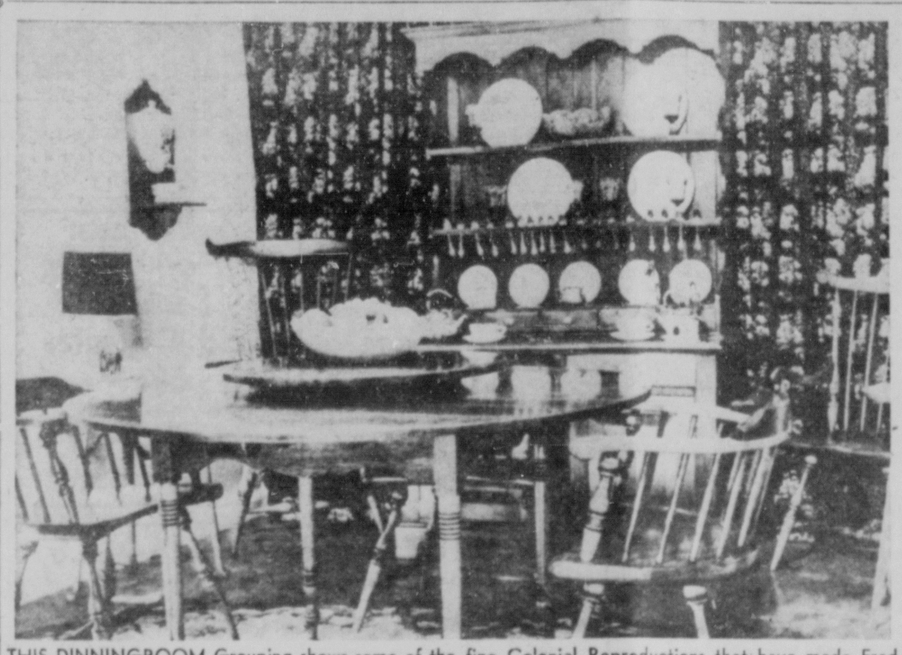

So why not follow health's own rule for hot weather and cool off the practical way with a Coldspot Room Air Conditioner.

Its efficiency . . . its modern design . . . its economical operation . . . its low price . . . these are good reasons why Coldspot power cooling belongs in your home and office.

Perhaps you are one who may have the impression that air conditioning is only the privilege of the favored few. Sears has changed that—with a choice of Coldspot models that fit right into your family budget.

You will truly make your home a haven—a place where the family will gather gratefully—in the comfort provided by the dependable quality of Coldspot Pow'r Cooling.

See the Coldspot display in the Sears department of the A. B. Wyckoff store this week.

THIS DINNINGROOM Grouping shows some of the fine Colonial Reproductions that have made Frederick Duckloe and Bros. famous throughout the U.S. and many foreign countries. A family business, all the skill of fine furniture construction has been handed down from one generation to the next accounting for the painstaking detail still found in todays fine pieces. All Duckloe pieces are available in a variety of decorator finishes and are hand rubbed to give the depth of tone and beauty known to our many customers.

Use Old Brush To Reach Corner

KEEP A FEW old paint brushes handy for painting in corners and other tight spots. Trying to catch these areas with a new brush will bend the bristles out of shape and cut down the usefulness of the brush. With an old beat-up brush it doesn't matter too much. Also use only old brushes or cheap ones on masonry and other rough surfaces.

Katz Offers Free Working Heat System

NOW, WITH summer just around the corner, is the time to install a new, work-free heating system.

Don't spend another winter a slave to your old fashioned heating system. No coal to shovel, no ashes to carry out. Completely automatic pushbutton heat can be yours for only a few dollars a month . . . and no money down.

Just call the D. Katz & Sons Plumbing & Heating department (Stroudsburg 2369). Katz offers you convenient FHA financing and up to 36 months to pay.

And if you're a Do-It-Yourself fan Katz will give you free engineering advice so you can make the complete installation yourself and save still more.

Oil Window Sash

WINDOW SASHES aren't likely to swell up and stick in damp weather if the unfinished sides of the sash are coated with linseed oil. This is better than paint because it adds nothing to the thickness of the wood.

Death Claims 83-Year-Old Mrs. Dingman

MRS. MARY DINGMAN, 83, of 20 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, died at 11:50 a.m. yesterday in General Hospital.

She had been in failing health 10 years and a patient in the hospital for the past week. She was born in Dingmans Ferry, daughter of the late Evi and Elizabeth Myers and had lived in East Stroudsburg 35 years. She was the wife of John C. Dingman.

She was a member of East Stroudsburg Baptist Church and of the Sons and Daughters of Liberty, Stroudsburg. Surviving are a brother, Edward Dingman of Hollywood, Fla.; a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Lanterman funeral home, Rev. Norman R. Savage officiating. Interment will be made in Delaware Cemetery, Dingmans Ferry. Friends may call at the funeral home from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Snydersville

Mrs. Richard Rinker

MR. AND MRS. Fred Halstead visited with Mr. and Mrs. George Hoffman on Sunday.

Donald Siptroth, of East Stroudsburg, spent the weekend with John Reaser.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Eberts were Sunday weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carmine Raucci and son in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Scientists have only recently learned to make rubber that is a duplicate of nature's product.

Cherry Lane

Mrs. William Clugston

SERVICE was held at the Cherry Lane Methodist Church on Sunday, May 15, with Justin Feltham bringing the message. On Thursday night, May 12, the Senior IAH group, under the leadership of Mrs. Helen Shaffer, met at the home of Elianore Sebring. They planned to commit Bible verses to memory for the next meeting and designated chapters to be read at that time. The period of prayer was dedicated to the beloved late pastor, Rev. Ralph H. Feltham. Each member selected an individual for whom prayers would be made for the coming month, by that member. During the social hour, refreshments were enjoyed by Mrs. Ruth Bird, Alberta Getz, Evelyn and Thelma Kane, Mrs. Helen Shaffer and daughters, Janet and Nancy, and the hostess, Eleanore Sebring. Two lovely bouquets brought to the church on Sunday by Mr. Feltham, in memory of his father, were afterwards given to Mrs. Grace Hallet and T. Benjamin Henry.

Lois Voige, of Reeders, was a guest of Janet Shaffer on Saturday night.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The calendar of events is gradually taking on its trim summer silhouette with five instead of 15 meetings a day. If it weren't for the brides-to-be, the graduates and the class reunions, things might get a little dull.

What am I saying? How could it be dull with Sunday school picnics, family reunions and former residents coming home for vacations? Yesterday for instance, there was Mrs. James Shannon shopping in Stroudsburg and looking not a day older, despite the three children they've had since they moved out of the Hamilton Square parsonage. They're visiting in Saylorsburg, children and all.

They're also just about ready to move into their brand new church, built to replace the one which burned down two years ago, so that brings you up to date on that. Except about what an excellent traveller their very young son is turning out to be.

And speaking of former ministers traveling, the Campbells have had a busy month. First they flew South to leave the children with Frances' parents, then to Seattle where Ernest was speaking and then to Los Angeles and his speech at the General Assembly. And that was a busman's holiday for sure.

But it's always good to know how well our friends are doing—but it's also nice to know that they still like to come back for a visit.

Miss Stocker Is Married In Bangor

Bangor—Miss Shirley Marie Stocker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood F. Stocker Sr., of 434 Northampton St., Bangor, and Marvin Thomas Snoddy Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin T. Snoddy Sr., of the Real Estate Building, were married at 2 p.m. on May 14, at St. John's Reformed Church by Rev. John C. Brumbach.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin, fashioned with a Queen Anne collar, long sleeves and a bouffant skirt ending in a long train. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion fell from a clip on band of sequins and pearls. She carried a white Bible with an orchid and other flowers.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Elwood Stocker Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, of 217 Westbrook Ave., Pen Argyl, wore a waltz length gown of blue nylon net over taffeta with a matching stole. Her headpiece was a clip to match her gown and she carried a colonial bouquet of yellow rosebuds.

Miss Louise Roberts, of 329 North Fourth St., Bangor, and Miss Kay Smale, of 14 Pennsylvania Ave., Pen Argyl, wore ballerina length gowns of yellow nylon net over taffeta with matching stoles and headpieces. Their colonial bouquets were of white daisies with blue pompons.

Elwood F. Stocker Jr. was best man, and the ushers were Charles Stocker, brother of the bride, and Robert Snoddy, brother of the bridegroom, both of Bangor.

The church was decorated with bouquets of white snapdragons, and Mrs. Earl Becker was organist and Mrs. George Remegan was soloist.

A reception was held in the church social rooms. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Snoddy will make their home with the bride's parents. They are both graduates of Bangor High School. The bride is employed at the Floyd Jones store in Bangor, and the bridegroom by Bangor Mills, Inc., at Pen Argyl.

locomotive munchers

In twelve months the offspring from only 450 moths can eat the weight of a diesel locomotive.

The coming warmer months are the worst season for moths and carpet beetles, the National Institute of Rug Cleaning warns. Every year moths and beetles ruin hundreds of millions of dollars of clothes, drapes, upholstery, rugs, and other fabrics.

When temperatures and humidity go up, moth eggs hatch rapidly. The larvae then gorge for 40 days. And the greedier, tougher beetle larvae will banquet for a whole year.

Best protection against rug moths and carpet beetles is a thorough professional rug cleaning. This will get rid of all moths, larvae, and eggs. It will also eradicate the stains and dirt which are added inducements to infestation. The reputable professional rug cleaner can moth-proof rugs and carpets during their annual spring cleaning. This service will also kill silverfish, which attack jute and cotton backing.

At home, the vacuum cleaner and the carpet sweeper should not be neglected. They should be used several times a week. Daily care is even better. Breaks, creases, seams, folds, and baseboard areas should be given special attention. Each is a likely hiding place for these bugs of big appetite.

Miss Pocono Contest Is Announced

MISS AMERICA may be chosen from the Pocono Mountains this year. At any rate, all girls from the age of 18 to 24 will have a chance to win a title.

A Miss Pocono Mountains contest is being sponsored by Skyline Inn, Mount Pocono, directed by Mrs. Paul Craigie.

Mrs. Craigie in an interview yesterday outlined the requirements. In addition to the age grouping of 18 to 24, contestants must have resided at least six months in Monroe, Pike or Wayne Counties. They should possess some talent: they should be able to sing, play the piano or other musical instrument; dance, paint or have dramatic talent.

Mrs. Craigie also outlined the rewards offered in the contest. Winner of the title of Miss Pocono will be crowned after the finals in the contest on June 24, and Miss Pennsylvania of 1955 has been invited to come here to present her crown. The winner will then be elegible to compete in the semi-finals for Miss Pennsylvania of 1956 to be held in West Chester, and if successful there to go to Atlantic City for the national finals.

Preliminary Contest

A preliminary contest will be held on June 13 at Skyline Inn. All girls interested in applying may call Mrs. Craigie at Skyline Inn, Mount Pocono 3661, this Thursday from 2 to 4 p.m. or on Friday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to arrange for a personal interview. If they prefer they may visit Skyline Inn in person during those hours.

Parents whose daughters would be eligible but who are not yet home from college may also call for later appointments.

In addition to the fun of competition and the expenses-paid trips to further competitions, there are many prizes distributed in the national beauty contest, ranging from a $5000 scholarship to many special prizes.

One Cannot Determine Russian's Intentions By Limiting Attention To Single Maneuver

Associated Press News Analyst

A good many people are asking why Russia is being so tough in her relations with the Allies at Berlin while attempting to spread so much sweetness and light elsewhere.

After the experiences of the last 10 years, few people are willing to make categorical estimates of why Russia does anything the way she does. Diplomats everywhere make it a point not to center their attention on any particular angle, lest they be distracted from others. Secretary Dulles emphasized in his report to the nation, after his recent round of conferences in Europe, that he wasn't sure about Russia's immediate objectives.

Two factors, at least, seem obvious in the Berlin situation.

Major Reasons

One is that, by getting her East German puppet government into a row with the West German Republic over the use and maintenance of highways, she is seeking to establish the Eastern government as a concrete entity, an equal entity, in future discussions of the reunification of Germany.

The other is an attempt to demonstrate to West Germany that, while Russia seems to be relaxing pressures in preparation for Big Four negotiations, everybody should remember she is still in a position to cause a lot of trouble if she wishes. It's a sort of warning that if her blandishments are spurned she is capable of revenge.

The Russians undoubtedly realize they are in an anomalous position. They threatened loudly, before plans for West German rearmament were ratified, that such action would foreclose the hope of a negotiated settlement of the German question. Nevertheless, negotiations looking toward a settlement continue, even though the hope of concrete results is slim.

Molotov, Bulganin Differ

One curious thing is the quiet that has descended over Molotov after all the threatening noises he made prior to the establishment of Western European Union. He did carry the word to Vienna Russia was interested in German neutralism, something the Western diplomats already had guessed, but it was not the same Molotov who a short time before had been predicting World War III if the Allies persisted in West German rearmament.

At one point he seems to have gotten off the Krushchev-Bulganin track by agreeing with Dulles that the chiefs of state, at their meeting, might as well confine themselves to a relatively brief general discussion of issues upon which the foreign ministers and their assistants might go to work. The Kremlin now gives signs of wanting a lengthier and therefore more detailed discussion at the top.

Regardless of Russia's exact motives at any given point in all this discussion, signs appear more and more clearly through the fog that she is just maneuvering, rather than intending to produce concrete peaceful results.

East Stroudsburg Wins Playoff Draws

TEN YEARS TOGETHER—Harry Obitz, golf pro at Shawnee Inn and Country Club celebrates a decade of association with Shawnee Inn and Country Club at a testimonial dinner given by members of the Eastern Hardware Golf Association. The famous pro, a native of Red Cloud, Nebraska, is awarded an outdoor barbecue outfit by H. L. Gilliam, secretary-treasurer of the association.

Kluszewski Shoots To Front Of Pack

NEW YORK, May 23 (AP)—Ted Kluszewski, the famed "Mr. Muscles" of the Cincinnati Redlegs, finally has started belaboring National League pitchers with home runs and base hits in the manner to which they're accustomed.

Kluszewski, a former football star at the University of Indiana, slammed three homers last week to deadlock Duke Snider of Brooklyn for the lead at 11. He also collected nine other hits in 23 at bats (a .522 pace) and pushed his batting average to .321, good for a sixth place tie with Milwaukee's Johnny Logan.

The veteran Redlegs' first baseman hit 49 homers in 1954 and for a time threatened Babe Ruth's all-time mark of 60. For the record, both he and Snider are all even with the Bambino's 1927 pace.

Fast Surge

Only two weeks ago, Kluszewski was batting .247 and Cincinnati Manager Birdie Tebbets was starting to wonder when his big gun would start hitting.

Big Klu, however, has a long way to go to catch New York's Don Mueller, who still is setting a torrid pace in the batting competition with a .397 mark. Don hit .333 in last week's games with 10 safeties in 30 trips.

Bill Virdon, the Cards' rookie outfielder, moved into second place at .368. He gained 14 points on 11 hits in 27 times at bat. Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn, who has hit safely in his last seven games, is third with .365.

Roy Campanella of Brooklyn is the circuit's runs batted in leader with 39.

American League

In the American League, Vic Power of Kansas City dropped six points to .389, but he still holds a commanding lead over Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline of Detroit.

Kuenn slumped 15 points to .373 with only six hits in 21 at bats while Kaline tailed off 21 points to .358 with five in 21 trips.

Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees is the league's leader in home runs with 11 and runs batted in with 30.

Don Newcombe of Brooklyn has the National League's best won-lost record among the pitchers. He's won six games without a defeat. Bob Turley is 7-1 for the best American League mark.

Turley also has fanned the most American League batters, 72 while Sam (No Hit) Jones of the Chicago Cubs tops the National League with 59.

Giant Backer Speaks Mind

By Whitney Martin

NEW YORK, May 23 (AP)—This fellow was so anti-Dodger he wouldn't try to get out of the way of a truck bearing down on him.

No particular reason, except possibly because he was a Giant fan and any loyal Giant fan harbors an abiding distaste for anything remotely associated with Brooklyn.

At the moment he was trying to knock down the team from over the river, a by no means trivial task in that Walter Alston's athletes still had quite a cushion in first place and had played for a spell as if they wouldn't get paid unless they won.

"Just wait," he predicted darkly, "they'll fold lika camp stool when the going starts to get tough. They were no bargain on their recent road trip, were they?

"That's their history, remember? You recollect when they blew that 12½-game lead, don't you? One little thing will go wrong, and then another, and pretty soon they'll get panicky and won't be able to do anything right."

He paused for breath but before we could edge in with the remark that there must have been some years when the Dodgers didn't fold, such as 1949, and 1952, and 1953, he was off again.

"Why are they there now? Because they just happened to click all at once. How long do you think they can play that way?

"With only about a fifth of the season gone Duke Snider has hit about a dozen home runs, and driven in 36, Roy Campanelle has driven in 33 or more, and Carl Furillo upwards of 30. You don't think they can keep that up, do you?

"And when things get to going bad, as they're going to, you'll see them squabbling among themselves like one big, unhappy family. They did plenty of squawking this spring, if you'll recall, with Campanella, and Robinson and others putting the blast on their manager for one thing or another.

"And wasn't Don Newcombe clipped with a $400 fine the other day for refusing to pitch batting practice? Sure, I know he went out and pitched great ball his next start, but you can't tell me he isn't burning up inside.

"Some of those guys aren't so young, either. Jackie Robinson already is brooding over the idea he might be through. Peewee Reese isn't any chicken, although I will say he's one guy over there I admire.

"So far Campanella hasn't been bothered by his hand, but there's no telling when it might go bad on him."

It was obvious this was all wishful thinking on the part of the fellow. Scared thinking, you might say. He had built up the idea his Giants couldn't lose this year, and was giving himself a pep talk.

There were certain truths sprinkled around in his dissertation, such as the fact that some players were hitting over their heads. He didn't mention that a few athletes, such as Junior Gilliam at .206, and Gil Hodges, at .273, and Robinson, at .209, were hitting far below their usual form.

But on the whole it was the bleat of a fan who was fearful his team wouldn't make it on its merits, and would have to rely on its traditional rival falling apart.

Oh well, everyone has his hopes. We hope it's a nice day tomorrow.

Cavaliers To Play At Giffels Field

SLATINGTON — East Stroudsburg High drew a bye and the home field in the District 11 Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association Baseball Playoffs that get underway this week. The drawings took place here at Slatington High School last night.

Head Coach Jack Kist and assistant Dick Forster apparently had the backing of Lady Luck last night as Kist called the flip of a coin by Dale Learn, District 11 chairman, for the home field, while Forster drew the bye.

East Stroudsburg will play its home playoff game at Gordon Giffels Field, with the kind permission of Stroudsburg High School officials.

The opening playoff game will be played tomorrow, at 4 p.m., and will feature Northampton, Lehigh Valley League title holder, against Allentown, king of the East Penn League.

Tomorrow's Northampton-Allentown battle will take place on Allentown's home field.

Schedule

If Allentown wins tomorrow's battle the Canaries will face East Stroudsburg. Lehigh-Northampton League champion, at Giffels Field, on Friday, at 4 p.m.

Should Northampton win tomorrow, the Konkrete Kids will battle East Stroudsburg on Saturday, also at Giffels Field, at 2:30 p.m.

If Allentown wins and it should rain on Friday, the contest will be played Saturday. If Northampton wins and it should rain, the playoff tussle will be fought on Thursday, June 2.

The conflict between East Stroudsburg and Northampton dates is brought about by the annual Washington trips b ythe respective senior classes.

In addition to Kist and Forster, last night's meeting was attended by Mike Lisetski, Northampton coach; Ken Wildinger, Allentown mentor; Learn, and Herman Snyder, Slatington High School principal, who is heading the playoff committee.

East Stroudsburg plans to practice the rest of the week on the playground field.

Barrett Rotary Defeats Lions

Weatherman Stops Tussle In Fifth

MOUNTAINHOME—Barrett Roweatherman—30 ... ...GIFF tary piled up the runs quick eough to open the Pocono Little League season with a 7-2 victory over Barrett Lions in a game that was halted after four and one-half innings by rain last night.

The Rotary, scoring every time it went to bat, lashed out nine hits to do its damage, while the Lions could account for only six safeties.

Rotary picked up a single marker in the first, then scored two at a time through the second, third and fourth frames.

Loss

The Lions lost a battle to Rotary and to the weatherman by picking up a singleton in the first and another in the third.

Carl Smith pitched the entire distance for Rotary, while Clark and Alberts divided the mound chores for the Lions.

Tannersville Leads Mount Pocono When Rain Arrives

TANNERSVILLE—Mount Pocono and Tannersville, each making its initial start in the Pocono Little League, were rained off the books after four innings last night.

The host club, playing its first game on a brand new field, picked up two runs in the first inning, two more in the third and one in the fourth, while Mount Pocono came up with three in the bottom of the third as the home team held a 5-3 advantage when the rains came.

One Hit

Mount Pocono was held to one hit by four Tannersville pitchers, while Tannersville lashed out five safeties.

Each of the teams committed two errors in the field.

Williams Hits Homer In Exibition Tilt

BOSTON, May 23 (AP)—Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox slugger making his first appearance of the season in the Sox lineup, tonight slammed a 375-foot home run into the deep rightfield seats in the third inning of an exhibition game with the New York Giants.

The crowd roared as the big fellow, who has not been in a regular game yet, rounded the bases.

Retires

Williams, plagued by aches and pains and hand blisters developed in daily workouts since signing his 1955 contract May 13, retired after his booming blast. The drive sent the Red Sox into a 4-2 lead. They later won 4-3 in a game called after 6½ innings.

Ted plans to remain in Boston while the Sox go to Baltimore for the next three days, but may return officially to the lineup next weekend when the club returns home.

Atkins Polishes Off Miceli In First Round At St. Nick's

NEW YORK, May 23 (AP)—Virgil Akins of St. Louis racked up his fourth straight knockout by stopping Joe Miceli of New York in 2:41 of the first round of a telecast bout at St. Nicholas Arena. Akins weighed 145, Miceli 148½.

The 25-year-old Negro floored Miceli three times and was automatically out under New York's three knockdowns-and-out rules. After Miceli's third trip to the floor, Referee Ray Miller waved his arms to signal the kayo.

A jolting left hook felled and stunned the 25-year-old ex-soldier. He got up at three, shaking his head in an effort to clear away the cobwebs and was given the automatic eight count.

A solid left to the body dropped Miceli again but he jumped up at one and waited out the eight count.

Eager for the kill, Akins tore after Miceli and decked him for the third and last time with a short right to the jaw.

IAM Downs Coates To Capture Initial Softball Decision

IAM BROKE INTO the win column for the first time this season in the Monroe County Softball League last night with a 10-3 verdict over Coates Board and Paper Carton Co. The contest was played at Stroudsburg High School.

The ultimate winner, loser of four games this season, stepped off with two runs in the first, four in the second, one in the third and three in the home half of the fifth round.

Coates, now in the midst of a losing streak, scored all of its runs in the home half of the second.

The winning contingent did all of its damage on seven hits and four errors by the Coates club.

Coates banged out eight safeties, but IAM played errorless ball in the field.

Honeys Alibi Whips Three High Hopes

BALTIMORE, May 23 (AP)—Honeys Alibi, W—L. Ranch's hope of cashing in on the $100,000 Preakness, whipped three other candidates for the big race by scoring a length-and-a-half victory today in the Prep.

Handled well by Jockey Carlos Gonzalez, Honeys Alibi wrested the lead from the pace-setting Fleet Path, belonging to Duntreath Farm, going into the far turn and outgamed him to win going away.

Place Money

Fleet Path saved the place money by two lengths over Gee M. Cohen's Chuck Thompson, who was six lengths in front of the always-trailing Christiana Stable's Thinking Cap.

Although the small field deprived the 9,553 fans of a chance to bet on the feature, Honeys Alibi's victory was worth $3,250 to his owner.

Honeys Alibi was clocked in 1 minute, 43 3-5 seconds for the mile-and-a-sixteenth, which is an eighth shorter than Saturday's Preakness. His time over the fast track was one and three-fifths seconds off the record set by Noble Impulse in 1949.

State Rated As Favorite

NEW YORK, May 23 (AP)—Coaches today rated Penn State's defending champions as the favorites for the 79th IC4A track and field championships at Randalls Island Friday and Saturday.

Deep Squad

Manhattan's deep squad and Yale were rated the chief threats.

A total of 513 athletes from 47 colleges has entered New York's only big outdoor track and field carnival.

Special Meeting Slated

SAYLORSBURG Lakers will hold a special meeting tonight after practice at the Lake House, Saylorsburg. The meeting is to follow immediately after the regular practice session.

Carter Out Of Title Bout

NEW YORK, May 23 (AP)—Manager Willie Ketchum said tonight that lightweight champion Jimmy Carter "is sick" and won't be able to go through with his June 1 title bout with Wallace (Bud) Smith in Boston.

Statement

"The fight has been postponed indefinitely," said Ketchum.

"I notified the International Boxing Club this afternoon that Jimmy has a bad throat and can't fight."

Pavella Wins Golf Crown

PITTSBURGH, May 23 (AP)—Mike Pavella, chunky little pro from the Washington County Country Club, won the Western Pennsylvania Open golf championship today with a record-breaking card of 66-67—133, 11 under par.

It was the best score ever posted in the open competition. Pavella bagged 12 birdies in the 36-hole test at the Youghiogheny Country Club.

Seven Strokes

Seven strokes behind came Vic Cholteo of the Hillcrest Country Club, New Kensington; Johnny Bulla of the Westmoreland Country Club; and Lew Worsham of Oakmont.

George Henry Jr., of Greensburg led the amateurs in the field of 96 with 76-62—148.

The defending champion, Tom Blaskovich of the Pleasant Valley Country Club, Connellsville, shot 70-78—148.

O'Gorman Tops Field

PITTSBURGH, May 23 (AP)—Unheralded Ken O'Gorman of Moon Twp. today shot 77-71—148, eight over par, at the Allegheny Country Club to win the WPIAL golf championship.

Ronnie Schwarzel of Brentwood, bidding for an unprecedented fourth straight title, finished second with 77-73—150.

Low Scores

The nine low scorers who qualified for the PIAA championships to be held at University Park Friday and Saturday:

O'Gorman, Schwarzel, Bob Beacon, Penn Twp., 151; Wayne Van Dyne, Kittanning, 152; Phil Jamison, Greensburg, 152; Bob Bosnick, Penn, 153; Jim Curti, Oakmont, 151; John Stitt, Avonworth, 153; John Malay, Penn Twp., 154.

Rain Halts First Games

PEN ARGYL—Slate Belt Babe Ruth League opened its season last night but the first game was discontinued by rain at the end of the fourth inning.

The game, played at Weona Park, Pen Argyl, pitted the Pen Argyl Athletics against the Bangor Browns. The A's led the Browns 3 to 1 at the end of the fourth inning.

First Try

Another game, between the Pen Argyl Green Sox and the Roseto-A's, slated for the Roseto grounds, was rained out. Bangor Yanks and West Bangor, the other two teams in the League, make their initial try today at 6 p.m. at Bangor Memorial Park.

Archery Group Meets Tonight

THE REGULAR monthly meeting of the Delaware Archery Association will be held today at 8 p.m. at the East Stroudsburg fire house.

Report

A report will be presented by the committee working to find a site for a field range. Several alternatives have been chosen by the committee. Members are expected to make a final choice tonight on location for their roving range.

Also to be heard are several other committee reports, including one on the archery exhibition at Merry Hill Lodge.

West End A. C. Makes Plans

EFFORT—The West End Baseball Club, of the Pocono Mountains League, met last night at Pohopoco Hotel in Effort. Purpose of the meeting was to set up activities for the season.

The club decided to stage a "dollar night" cakewalk and dance. It is tentatively slated for June 24.

In Charge

At last night's meeting Kenneth Achy, manager, was in charge. Directors attending were Floyd Buskirk, James Gould, Neal Steigerwalt and John Wernett.

Among the guests were Clarence Smith, first vice president of the League; Leonard Renaldo, chief umpire in the league and Joseph DeFrank, his assistant.

Wayne Wise was named chairman of the committee for the "dollar night" program with Harold Foust, Jack Young and Mrs. Kenneth Achy to serve with him.

Scheffing To Pilot Angels

CHICAGO, May 23 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs announced tonight that Bob Scheffing, coach with the Cubs since 1954, has been named manager of the Los Angeles Angels replacing Bill Sweeney.

Take Over

Scheffing will take over Wednesday in Los Angeles, a Cub farm club in the Pacific Coast League. The announcement said Sweeney is resigning because of ill health.

Cub manager Stan Hack named Ray Hayworth, former big league catcher and now a scout with the Cubs, as the replacement for Scheffing.

Lyons, Hebert Reach Goal

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 23 (AP)—Toby Lyons of Jamestown, N. Y., and Lionel Hebert of Erie, Pa., today qualified for the two western New York places in the National PGA championships. Each carded two over par 144s at the Transit Valley Country Club.

Third Straight

Lyons, a professional at the Moonbrook Country Club, qualified for his third straight PGA tourney with a 74-70.

Hebert, a 27-year-old pro at 72-72.

Erie's Kahka Country Club, scored Mike Parco of Buffalo qualified as an alternate with a 75-74—149.

Rickets To Turn Pro

PITTSBURGH, May 23 (AP)—Dandy Dick Ricketts, one of the greatest basketball players in Duquesne University's history, said today he's going to give both pro basketball and baseball a whirl after he graduates.

The Pottstown, Pa., youth said he prefers a baseball career but is going to take a crack at the floor game, too.

Draft

Ricketts, drafted by Milwaukee of the National Basketball Assn. and later transferred to St. Louis, said he will accept a two-year floor contract.

The big league baseball clubs—the New York Yankees, Philadelphia Phillies and St. Louis Cardinals—reportedly are waiting to talk terms the minute he gets his diploma June 5.

Rickets, 21, said his baseball future depends on the best offer. He pitches and plays first base but believes he has a better chance to make the grade in the major leagues as a first baseman.

Turf Experts Honor Gallorette

WILMINGTON, Del., Mal 23 (AP)—Gallorette, the second leading money winning mare of all time, was voted first place in Delaware Park's balloting to determine America's 10 greatest race mares.

All Sections

Horsemen and turf experts from all sections of the country nominated 56 candidates for the top 10 honor. The final voting was done by 90 members of the American Trotting Assn. Based on a 10, 9, 8, 7 ,6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, vote, Gallorette, who now languished on the Warrenton, Va., farm of Mrs. Marie A. Moore, polled 548 of the possible 900 points.

In order, behind Gallorette, came Twilight Tear, Regret, Top Flight, Miss Woodford, Busher, Beldame, Princess Doreen, Bewitch and Imp.

Chisox Tie Braves, 7-7

MILWAUKEE, May 23 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox tonight pushed over four runs in the eighth inning to tie the Milwaukee Braves 7-7 in an exhibition called in the last of the 10th inning to allow Chicago to catch a train for Cleveland.

Four Monroe County Professionals Fail To Qualify For PGA

PHILADELPHIA—Four Monroe County Golfers failed in their bid for a birth in the National PGA Tournament here at Rolling Green Country Club yesterday, during which seven berths were filled from the Philadelphia area.

John Serafin, Pittston, came up with another of his remarkable putting exhibitions to pace the field with 143, on rounds of 63 and 80.

Serafin's 63 on the first 18 was a course record.

Henry Williams, Berkleigh Country Club, near Reading, was next in line with a 144 score, on 18s of 73 and 71.

George Griffin followed with a 145, as did Ralph Hutchinson, both on rounds of 73 and 72.

Skee Regil banged out a 146, on rounds of 72-74.

Bracketed at 147 were Pete DeAngelis, "Toby" Costanzo, Rod Munday, York, and Jim Gantz.

Munday was the only certain qualifier in this group and the others were on the fourth extra hole according to the latest information available.

Tony Midiri, Glen Brook; Stan Dudas, Shawnee-onDelaware; Ray Lambert, Mountain Manor, and Dick Farley, Shawnee-on-Delaware, were the Monroe County professionals who just failed to make the grade.

Chestnuthill, Pocono To Settle County Baseball Title

RILEY

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

BASEBALL FANS who have thrilled at the exploits of East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg High Schools on the diamond this spring may continue to thrill at some of the same youngsters this summer. Many of the boys who paced the Cavaliers to the Lehigh-Northampton League title have agreed to play with the Strouds, now a member of the Bi-State League. Stroudsburg High had three representatives in the starting lineup on Sunday and each contributed greatly to a 6-0 verdict over Johnsonville.

The three Stroudsburg boys making their presence felt on the Strouds last Sunday were Paul "Doc" Lim, captain of the Mountaineers; Dave Nevil and Ronnie "Super" Phillips, who hit a home run for Manager Frank Radler and company. Those who have indicated that they would join forces with the Strouds for the coming summer months from East Stroudsburg are Bill Sommers, Gene Plaza, Bob "Red" Kupiszewski, Charley "Snook" Litts and Dick Gray. This group will join the Strouds immediately after their playoff schedule is completed.

Presence of students of high school age on the Strouds should add a lot of interest to the local club. It also gives graduates of the Babe Ruth League a chance to play for the first time since the latter circuit was formed. But, even more important it is an education for the high school players of both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg, whether they graduate next month or return for another campaign next year.

The youngster who plans to play college baseball and the one back for one or more years of high school activity will pick up valuable experience while playing for the Strouds this season. Radler is Mr. Baseball in this area. He has played and managed for many years, most of which has been in the professional ranks. His advice and instruction will be invaluable to the high school players of this area and could be the difference between a successful and unsuccessful baseball career—amateur or professional.

A form of pride almost makes it mandatory for boys of the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg area to play with the Strouds. It gives this locality an opportunity to demonstrate its diamond ability against surrounding communities. It will provide the East Stroudsburg youngsters with another opportunity to add to the title list, providing they play well enough to capture the Bi-State League crown. All-in-all, it's an opportunity that none of the interested baseball players in this locality can turn down.

A boy who limits his yearly diamond activities to the few weeks required to finish the high school season certainly can't be classified as a baseball player. It takes a lot of hard work and many games before one learns to hit the curve ball and gain the savy of which baseball players are made. Baseball it at its highest peak in several years in both East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg at the present time. Let's keep it there with a good Bi-State League representative this season.

Those who saw both the Strouds and Roseto win on Sunday are still singing praises of the two clubs. But, those who know point out that both Johnsonville and Blairstown will be vastly improved during the next two weeks. Portland is known to have an outstanding club, although it drew a bye in the schedule last Sunday. Portland and the Strouds will play on the former's field tomorrow at 6 p.m., instead of Thursday as originally scheduled.

A tremendous home run by Randy Morris, the brilliant two-hit pitching of Radler, a fielding gem by Danny Eppley, the hustle of John Whitehead behind the bat, the fielding of Bill Frear, the fact that Lim was on base all five times at bat and the four bagger by Phillips, a junior high student, are all major talking points for the Strouds at the present time. Spectators who saw the Strouds play last Sunday informed this column that they've never witnessed a club in this area with as much hustle.

The Strouds make their initial home appearance of the current campaign on Sunday when Blairstown invades Gordon Giffels Feld. The Strouds play at Roseto on Monay, Memorial Day. All afternoon games in the Bi-State League get underway at 2:30. The Pocono Mountains League is certainly lucky to have insurance.

Arch Foes To Clash Tomorrow

CHESTNUTHILL and Pocono High Schools will decide the Monroe County League baseball championship tomorrow at Stroudsburg's Gordon Giffels Field, at 3 p.m.

Otto "Junior" Mills, president of the league and coach of the Chestnuthill club, announced last night that he and Harry Werkheiser, Pocono mentor, had agreed on the date via a telephone conversation yesterday.

Pocono and Chestnuthill finished the regular season flag race with identical records of seven victories and one defeat.

The Pocono forces won over Chestnuthill, 12-0, on the latter's home field, but Chesfnuthill evened matters by smacking Pocono, at Tannersville.

Perfection

Otherwise the two arch foes had a perfect season.

Chestnuthill will be out to make a clean sweep of the Monroe County League laurels, as the school won the basketball title last season.

The Millsmen will be out to gain their third straight circuit title in baseball.

Pocono and Chestnuthill have clashed in baseball playoffs before and are expected to take up tomorrow right where they left off in the past.

Admission for the game will be 35 cents for adults and 20 cents for students.

Moore Returns To Penn State

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa., May 23 (AP)—Pennsylvania State University today reinstated Lenny Moore, 21-year-old star halfback who was dropped last semister for poor grades. He will be available for the 1955 Nittany Lions football team if he makes up his grades.

The reinstatement, for a 12-week summer course, stipulates that the record-holding gridder will have to maintain the equivalent of a 72 average in four liberal arts courses during the summer session if he is to be eligible to return for regular classes in the fall.

Promise

Notified of his reinstatement, Moore told school officials, "I will be back to take the summer course and I promise to do my very best to show you I appreciate the faith you place in me."

C. O. Williams, dean of admissions, said Moore was reinstated by the university's nine-member committee on academic standards.

Phillies Drop Young Hurler

PHILADELPHIA, May 23 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies announced today the outright release of pitcher Lynn Lovenguth to Syracuse of the International League.

The shift was to make room for pitcher Bob Kuzava, purchased from the Baltimore Orioles at the waiver price of $10,000.

Relief

Lovenguth has been used as a relief pitcher in 12 Phillies games this year, pitching 17 innings and allowing seven earned runs. He has no victories, was charged with one defeat.

Lim Paces Mountaineers At Plate During 1955 Campaign

PAUL "DOC" LIM captain of the Stroudsburg High baseball squad, led the regulars in batting during the season just completed according to unofficial figures compiled yesterday.

Lim banged out 10 hits in 27 times at bat and scored nine runs for a .370 mark. One home run was included in his output for the veteran shortstop.

The Stroudsburg captain hit at a .364 clip in the seven Lehigh Valley League games played by the Mountaineers and then upped the average in two non-circuit outings with East Stroudsburg and Pen Argyl.

Barry Tretheway freshman infielder, posted the only perfect mark of 1.000. He beat out a bunt and batted in the winning run against Whitehall in a league game. This was the only appearance at the plate for Tretheway.

Next In Line

Dave Nevil and Wallie Adelmann, senior first baseman and combination outfielder-pitcher respectively, were tied for second place among the regulars with .286 marks.

Frank "Buddy" Radler a pitcher, crasked out three singles in nine trips to the plate for a .333 average.

The Mountaineers as a team, hit at a .257 pace in all nine games during the season.

In the pitching department Don "Ockie" Setzer was the only hurler with a perfect record winning two games without a setback.

Stroudsburg used a total of 16 players during the course of the present campaign and finished second in the Lehigh Valley League race with five victories and two setbacks.

Overall the Mountaineers compiled a record of six victories and three setbacks.

Karl Weingartner

Weingartner To Attend Lafayette

BARTONSVILLE—Karl Weingartner, former three-letter athlete at Stroudsburg High, has definitely decided to attend Lafayette College in September, it was revealed yesterday by his father, Andrew Weingartner.

Wtingartner, a resident of this locality, will graduate from Fork Union Military Academy, Richmond, Va., on Saturday.

Karl will receive a full scholarship at Lafayette, where he will play both football and baseball.

Three Letters

Weingartner won letters in football, basketball and baseball at Stroudsburg High. He played both football and baseball at Fork Union.

The former Stroudsburg High star quarterbacked Fork Union to the prep school football championship of Virginia and then led the baseball club to the state baseball title.

Weingartner hit over .350 and played every game at shortstop for the military school. He will return to his home here immediately after graduation.

Large Rowing Field Ready

NEW YORK, May 23 (AP)—Thirty college crews, the largest number in five years, will row in the three races of the 53rd Intercollegiate Rowing Assn. Regatta at Syracuse, N.Y., June 18.

Twelve colleges — virtually the full complement of "major" rowing schools plus a couple that did not often race in the big events—entered the three - mile varsity race. The junior varsity and freshman races drew nine entries each.

Gordon Back With Giants After Deal

PITTSBURGH, May 23 (AP)—Sid Gordon, a veteran outfielder and third baseman who is now in his 14th year in the major leagues, was sold to the New York Giants by the Pittsburgh Pirates today in a straight cash deal.

In making the announcement, the Pirates declined to reveal the amount of cash involved.

Return

The deal sends Gordon back to the team with which he began his major league career in 1941. He played with the Giants through 1949, with the exception of 1944 and 1945 when he was in the armed forces.

In 1950 he went to the Boston Braves and continued to play with the Braves in 1953 when the team's franchise was switched to Milwaukee. He came to the Pirates in 1954 in a trade that sent Danny O'Connell to the Braves.

Steelers Sign College Star

PITTSBURGH, May 23 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League today signed fullback Lemuel Harkey, 21, of the College of Emporia, Kan. for the 1955 season.

Harkey scored 56 touchdowns in four years of college ball. He gained an average of 143 yards a game in the 1954 college season. His home is at Lawton, Okla.

Ring Doctor Halts Program

The State Boxing Commission doctor refused to approve lightweight Armand Savoie, Montreal, for his 10-round bout tonight with Rocky Randell, Tampa, Fla., and promoter heard Ragas ordered an indefinite postponement.

Emile Bruneau, a member of the boxing commission, said Savoie had a cut on his left eye.

Second Thinks Body Blow Did Damage

PHILADELPHIA, May 23 (AP)—Harold Johnson wasn't drugged but was stopped by a teriffic body blow in the first round of his May 6 nationallytelevised fight with Julio Mederos, the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission was told today.

Barry W. Cohen, a second for Mederos, appeared as a voluntary witness before the commission in its investigation of boxing in Pennsylvania. Johnson, Philadelphia light heavyweight; his manager of record, Tommy Loughrey; three handlers and matchmaker Pete Moran, are charged with participating in a "sham, fake or collusive boxing match."

Suspension

Gov. George M. Leader banned boxing in Pennsylvania 90 days and ordered an investigation after traces of a barbiturate drug were found in Johnson's system. Physicians and police investigators reported Johnson was drugged sometime before the fight. The fighter collapsed in his corner after the second round and Mederos was declared the winner by TKO.

Cohen, asked by Deputy State Atty. Gen. Herbert Levin, "who drugged Johnson?" replied, that he didn't believe the No. 1 light heavyweight challenger was drugged at all but was stopped by a "terrific right to the body in the first round."

Levin, obviously impatient with the testimony of Cohen, his own witness, got into a wrangle with the fight handler as he was about to leave the stand.

"Mr. Cohen," said Levin, "I don't mind telling you that you were well rehearsed in your testimony after consulting with someone else. You can take that back to Massachusetts and New York."

Motorcycle Racer Dies In Crash

NUERBURGRING, Germany, May 23 (AP)—Gustav Baumm, a German motorcycle racer who holds 22 world speed records, was killed today in a cigar-shaped motorcycle he designed.

The tall, bearded speedster, an etcher by profession, lost control and crashed against a tree while practicing.

Two Latins Pace Majors In Earned Run Average Marks

NEW YORK, May 23 (AP)—Luis Arroyo of the St. Louis Cardinals and Sandy Consuegra of the Chicago White Sox, two Latins with excellent control and only one defeat between them, lead the major leagues in earned run averages today.

Arroyo, a rookie lefthander, has given up only five earned runs in 36 innings. He heads the National League with an earned run mark of 1.25, figures compiled by The Associated Press disclose. Arroyo, a native of Puerto Rico has won four games and lost none.

Consuegra, a righthander from Cuba, tops the American League with a 1.15 average. He has permitted six earned runs in 47 frames while winning three games and dropping one. His setback was by a 1-0 score.

Second Place

Brooklyn's Carl Erskine, the National League's early season pacesetter, is second to Arroyo. He has given up 13 earned runs in 76 innings for a 1.54 ERA. Carl has a 6-1 won-lost record.

Warren Hacker of Chicago, who pitched a one-hitter against Milwaukee last Saturday, is third with 1.62 on nine untainted tallies in 50 innings. He has a 3-2 record.

Dick Donovan, a pleasant surprise for the White Sox, shows an earned run mark of 1.53 to rank second to teammate Consuegra in the American League.

Johnny Schmitz, Washington's veteran southpaw, is third with 1.96.

Caster To Hold Exhibition

MOUNTAINHOME — Bob Walker, famous New Jersey angling expert, will be featured in casting exhibitions next Sunday and Monday here at Onawa Lodge, it was announced yesterday by H. Irwin Shinnen, owner manager of the lodge.

Walker, a national figure in angling circles, is well known as a lecturer on angling topics and is rated one of the top fly casting experts in the United States.

Third Appearance

He has appeared before audiences in many states and is making his third annual appearance at this popular Pocono Mountains resort.

Walker will demonstrate bait, spin and fly casting before the holiday guests. He will use the Onawa pool for the exhibition.

Boudreau Still Likes Detroit

KANSAS CITY, May 23 (AP)—The American League pennant race may look like a knockdown dragout fight between New York and Cleveland with Chicago nipping at their heels, but Manager Lou Boudreau of the Kansas City Athletics is not convinced.

Same Story

Don't laugh on the assumption Lou is going to make a wild prediction about his A's. He's going to be happy if they can finish in sixth place.

No, Boudreau is sticking with his preseason prediction — darkhorse Detroit.

Stroudsburg To Battle Faculty On Diamond

STROUDSBURG HIGH and the Faculty will renew their baseball feud at Gordon Giffels Field today at 4 p.m., with all the proceeds from the contest going to the high school Varsity "S" Club.

The Faculty scored a 6-3 verdict over the scholastic nine early last month in a pre-season battle that extended into extra innings.

Now the Mountaineers, who won six of nine regular season games and finished with a 5-2 mark against Lehigh Valley League opposition, are searching for revenge against the teachers.

The Faculty lineup is expected to be much the same as it was in the first meeting of the two clubs.

This means that Frank Radler will do the pitching, while John Whitehead handles the catching. Coach Jerry Stulgaitis will be on first base; Sam Wells, advisor to the Varsity "S" Club, second base; John Kupice, shortstop; Bill Keim, third base; Harry Robertson, left field; Charley Winters, center field, and Mahlon Serfass, right field.

The scholastic nine will line up in its usual manner. This means that Francis "Fritz" Hasara will catch; Dave Nevil will be on first base; Ronnie Stopp, second base; Paul "Doc" Lim, shortstop; Dick Hintze, third base; Tom Metzgar, left field; Doug Nichols, center field, and Wallie Adelmann, right field.

Pitching chores for the Mountaineers will be handled by either Frank "Buddy" Radler, Don "Ockie" Setzer or Roger Ray.

This will be the final diamond outing of the season for the Stroudsburg High baseball squad.

Coal Interests Carry Appeal To President

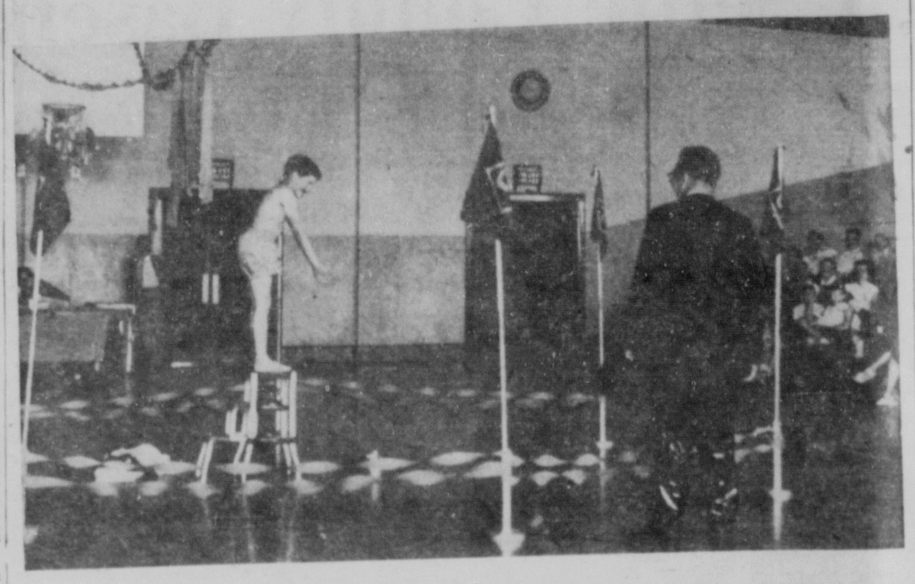

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP) — Coal men asked President Eisenhower today to close the damper against any governmental participation in "last rites" for the steam locomotive.

"Plain Propaganda" for the diesel and oil industries, the National Coal Assn. fumed in a telegram of protest to the White House.

"Ridiculous," Rep. Bailey, Democrat from West Virginia's coal regions, snorted in Congress.

"Why, there were 6,503 steam engines in service on the railroads not later than last month," Bailey told the House. "And last year the railroads bought 16,700,000 tons of coal to run 'em."

What got all the steam up was word by the Interstate Commerce Commission that a brass bell from a "retired" steam engine will be mounted on a stone pedestal at the Commission building in memory of the steam engine's replacement by the oil burning diesel.

Circus Theme Featured At Cub Meeting

CUB PACK 97 of Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, held their May pack meeting Saturday afternoon at the East Stroudsburg Junior High School gym.

The theme for May is "The Circus," and the gym had been decorated with crepe paper and balloons and stands to resemble a circus. A center ring was created by using the den flags on standards in a circle and roping this off with crepe paper.

A "grand march" with all Cubs participating started the program. Cubs and parents and guests were then free to enjoy the refreshments and participate in the "games of skill."

Cubmaster Charles Boltz, dressed as "ringmaster," announced the "center ring" attractions. Den 6 was responsible for this program, and they had a clown stunt, "strong man" who performed feats of strength, archer "William Tell" and his assistant in a stunt, a "high dive" artist, a "midget" act, and a "two-headed animal" and his trainer.

Participating Boys

Boys taking part in this performance were: Ronald Spinner, William Westbrook, Thomas Seese, Richard Heller, Lee Pollan, Clayton Heimbach, William Reese, Michael Boushell, and William Miller. Den mothers are Mrs. Seymour Pollan, Mrs. Dawson Seese, and Mrs. Clinton Boushell and Den Chief is Kenneth Miller.

Den 1 prepared a "game of skill" and a "ferocious tiger" who was "safely caged" during the show. Boys in this den are: Richard Altemose, James Baird, David Meinhart, Kim Hoffman, Karl Stabenow, James Gilfillan and Charles Buenzli. Den mothers are Mrs. Richard Altemose and Mrs. Georg Stabenow.

Den 2 had created a train of "wild" animals in their cages. Cubs working on this project were: Bruce Bean, William Caramella, Andrew Gelinas, John Garrity, Thad Janusz, Frank Smiley, James Kunkle and Douglas Millard. Den mothers are Mrs. John Garrity and Mrs. Thad Janusz.

The "circus clowns" were the Cubs of Den 3: John Baird, Randall Brown, Richard Brimer, Robert Brimer, William Cramer, Peter LaBar, Frank Merring, Raymond Potter and Jack Van Horn. Mrs. Norman Potter and Mrs. Gerald Lee are the Den mothers.

Den 4 provided "games of skill" as their circus project. Edward David, Donald Metzgar, Robert Posten, Grant Terrill, Bruce Widmer, Ross Transue and Thad Wicks are Cubs of Den 4. Den mothers are Mrs. T. E. Terrill and Mrs. Grace Posten.

Refreshments Served

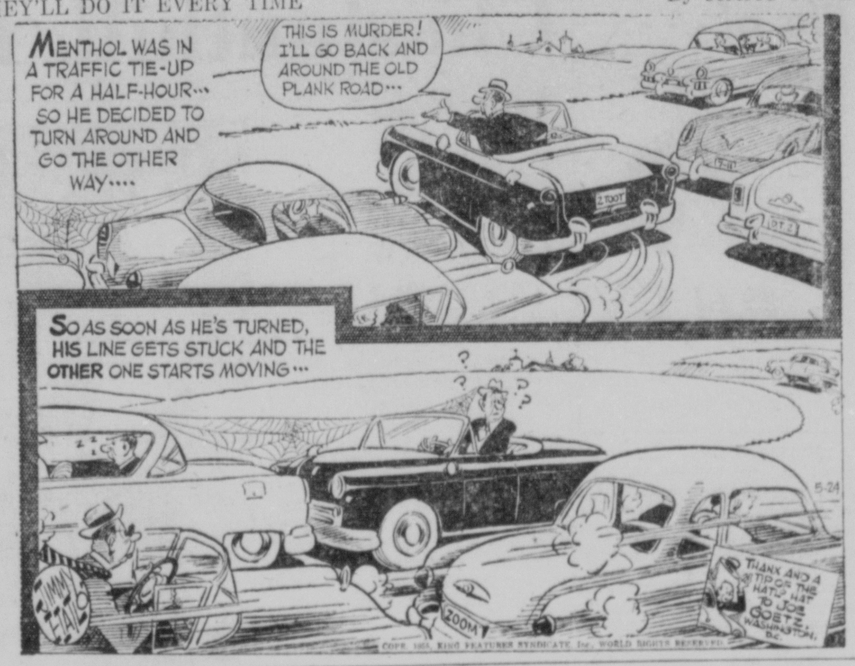

The circus refreshments were prepared by the Cubs in Den 5. The boys made "carry trays" and "peddled" their refreshments among the circus crowd. Cubs in Den 5 are: Jerry Weber, Larry Dildine, Elvin Ace, William Hay, Gary Chase, Allen Hecht, Larry Strunk, Robert Schoonover and Ronald Bruce. Mrs. William Hay and Mrs. David Hecht are Den mothers; they were assisted by Sandra Hecht.

During "center ring" time, the following boys received awards from the cubmaster: Wolf Badges: James Kunkle, Grant Terrill, Jerry Weber, Larry Dildine, Ronald Spinner, and Charles Buenzli. Spinner and Buenzli also received gold arrow points to augment the Wolf Badge. William Cramer received the silver arrow point to the Wolf Badge.

Robert Posten earned the Lion Badge, and William Miller received his Bobcat pin and registration card as a new Cub. These Scouts who had served as den chiefs during the year received certificates: Fred Baird, Eric Stabenow, Kenneth Miller, Robert Whittaker and Edwin Melvin. One-year service pins were presented to Jack Van Horn, Peter LaBar and Thad Janusz.

Cub Pack committee members who assisted were Mrs. Frank Talasz, Elwood Pipher and Mrs. Charles Boltz.

Trading Light As Market Loses Ground

NEW YORK, May 23 (AP)—Prices slipped lower in the stock market today in the midst of light trading.

The decline extended to almost all sections of the list, and little opposition to the selloff developed. At the same time, however, selling pressures never were great.

The fall went into the range of 1 to 2 points rather frequently, and some stocks had larger losses. Gains were mostly fractional.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down $1.00 at $162.50 with the industrial component off 70 cents, railroads down $1.70, and utilities off 20 cents.

There were 1,197 individual issues traded of which 342 ended higher and 626 lower with 56 new highs and 13 new lows for the year scored.

Volume was small at 1,900,000 shares. That compares with 2,240,000 shares traded Friday.

The American Stock Exchange was mostly lower on volume of 710,000 shares. That compares with 830,000 shares traded Friday.

A recent survey shows that the most gasoline is sold to U. S. motorists between 4 and 7 p.m.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

TUESDAY, MAY 24

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Fine possibilities, but there are evidences of contention too. Be reluctant to take chances or risk earnings on unfamiliar ventures. Don't join groups without investigating well.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Some misleading conditions to watch carefully. Don't be misguided by flowery, aggressive salesmen. "Count your change," as it were, and keep eyes and ears wide open. Realize the possibility of hazards.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Give your imagination free rein. Play up ingenious ideas—reasonably of course. Don't object to suggestions; therein may lay your true gains, direction.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—If prudent about business and finances, you can make appreciable headway now. Be sociable, don't hold little personal enmities.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—A moderate sort of day that can be good or otherwise, depending on your approach and handling of situations. Give your talents a break. Go after business and problems in a systematic manner and you will achieve.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Be on the lookout for the unexpected, the unusual. A change could be for the better. Maintain an optimistic, confident attitude.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—With discreet, intelligent management your outlook can be favorable in both personal and business matters. Let no good opportunity get by. Stress essentials, worthwhile matters.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—You may have to settle for a little less than you had anticipated. But don't be hasty and have to retrace your steps. Don't let minor irritations annoy you. Be patient throughout.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Your best prospects are in the mental department. Your inner circle, home, immediate activities are also favored if you are at ease and maintain your sense of humor.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—There will be many avenues open to you but only one is right and best. Let your conscience and careful judgment govern proper moves. Review facts first; don't rely on hearsay or chance.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Lay plans early. Day may present some problems, contention, perhaps hard opposition. Loyalty to your tasks and to true friends will bring happiness, assistance when least expected.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Matters pertaining to money, income, work, business are at fests now. Do only what you know is right, and aim to be well informed on all important matters.

YOU BORN TODAY are under Gemini and have a dual sort of nature, a vibrant personality. Cultivate the habit of reasoning things out before speaking; it helps prevent tactlessness. You can reach the heights in business, a profession or in the artistic world when you earnestly, honestly strive. Read, seek more knowledge always. You are roundly capable, adaptable, grasp things readily; should achieve top goals. Just don't be hasty, overzealous or skip over things too quickly. Birthdate of: Victoria, queen of England.

BIDS WANTED

The Supervisors of Chestnuthill Township, Monroe County, Pennsylvania, will receive bids for 42,242 gallons, more or less, of C-1 or C-2 bituminous material meeting P.D.H. specifications for CP-2 job, the same to be applied to Township roads as Supervisors direct with pressure distributor. The bituminous material shall be applied at any time and in any quantity, as directed by the Supervisors, to complete any work undertaken by the Supervisors during the year 1955. No bituminous material shall be applied unless the entire surface is in a condition to permit satisfactory penetration and adhesion of the bituminous material. This directive shall include hand spraying when and where it is necessary. All bidders must have specifications of their materials attached to their bids. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids and to use more or less than gallonage stipulated.

In conjunction with the bid for C-1 or C-2 bituminous material, the Supervisors will receive bids for 387 tons, more or less, of No. 1-B stone and/or 2,620 tons, more or less, of No. 2-B stone, to be spread on Township roads as Supervisors direct. The stone shall be spread into place with a Miller Spreader, or equal, and all irregularities of stone spreading shall be corrected by hand spreading so that all stone is in place for the application of the bituminous material without any additional work on the part of the Supervisors. All materials must meet P.D.H. specifications. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids or parts of bids and to use more or less tonnage than stipulated.

Stone and C-1 or C-2 bituminous material must be applied by one and the same bidder under direction of the Supervisors in quantities and at times specified by the Supervisors, and in accordance with Highway Department Form 408, Page 218: "SPECIFICATIONS FOR BITUMINOUS SURFACE COURSE CP-2."

Each proposal shall be accompanied by a certified check in an amount equal to 5% of the amount

Dr. Katharine R. Boucot

Large Number To Attend Dinner Meeting

RESPONSES from other agencies connected with health service in the Poconos Mountains to invitations to attend the 35th annual dinner meeting of Monroe County Tuberculosis & Health Society May 31 at Glen Brook Country Club already insures a very substantially attended meeting.

Major interest centers in the appearance here of Dr. Katharine R. Boucot, professor of preventive medicine and clinical professor of medicine at Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia.

Dr. Boucot is a noted authority on diseases of the chest. She is the visiting chief, division of chronic chest diseases, Philadelphia General Hospital's Bockley Division.

Mr. DeWees To Speak

She is a graduate of Women's Medical College and John Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health. Dr. Boucot received training in chest diseases at Herman Kiefer Hospital, Detroit.

Arthur DeWees, who served Pennsylvania Tuberculosis & Health Society many years as executive director and is still retained as an active consultant, is the other speaker.

REV. HAROLD MOHN of Evanston, Ill. visited his summer cottage in Wolf Hollow over night last Saturday and greeted Water Gap friends at the morning church service. Mr. Mohn had been in New York City on business and stopped over in this section.

Mrs. James Stacey with friends from Shawnee, Mrs. Ross Park and Miss A. Law, motored to Bainbridge, Md. a week ago to see the last show given by the Waring Pennsylvanians. It was a benefit show and was given in an outdoor ampitheatre at the Naval Training Center and was received with arue Navy enthusiasm. All the Monroe County Pennsylvanians are now home. The next activity will be a five day recording session held some time in May.

The women of the Presbyterian Auxiliary fed two hundred at the roast beef dinner in the fire hall Saturday night. The success of the dinner was a grief, in a way, as some would-be diners had to be turned away when the food was all consumed. Nearly all the members of the Auxiliary turned in and helped during the rush of the evening. The committees who had charge were: Mrs. Herbert Baker, chairman and potato cook; Mrs. Elam Gray, vegetables; Mrs. H. J. LaBar and Mrs. Henry Kulp, meat cooks; Mrs. Henry Harris, coffee; Mrs. Russell Buzzard, Mrs. Paul Zschack, Mrs. Chris Faulkenhagen, pantry; Mrs Clifford Hauser, Hostess; Paul Zschack, meat carver; Mrs. Francis Drake and Mrs. Elam Gary to secure waitresses.

Miss Kathryn Atkinson, of Camden has been visiting Mrs. Edythe Glebe. Miss Atkinson is actively in charge of Junior Red Cross work in Phila.

Miss Mabel Howe and Mrs. H. W. Brodhead, and Mrs. K. Frantz of Stroudsburg, motored to Sterling, Wednesday to visit at the home of Mr. Wm. Noble.
